Rays of A Bombs Still Killing Japs

By the Associated Press

The Tokyo radio said today that radio activity in Hiroshima, blasted by an atomic bomb, was taking a mounting death toll weeks after the attack, and that in the 14 days following the raid the death toll had mounted from 30,000 to 50,000. The broadcast said servicemen working in the area on reconstruction a week after the attack were found to have severely diminished red and white corpuscles.

Investigations in the city showed "radioactivity caused by the fission of uranium used in the atomic bombs is taking a toll of mounting deaths and, moreover, is causing persons engaged in reconstruction work in Hiroshima to suffer from various sicknesses and ill health."

Tokyo broadcasts have been referring repeatedly to the atomic bomb raids on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, possibly in a bid for world sympathy.

The broadcast said:

"Although the war has ended, the spectre of death hangs over the remaining citizens of Hiroshima. In an investigation made three days after the atomic bomb hit Hiroshima, it was reported there were 30,000 dead and 160,000 injured out of a total population of 250,000.

"Two weeks afterward the death toll had mounted to 60,000 and is continuing to rise.

"Although abundant medical supplies were rushed to the scene of the disaster and treatment was unsparingly given the victims, the death list continued to grow daily."

(International News Service reported that Tokyo radio, quoting a Jap newspaper correspondent, today described wounded victims of the atomic blast at Horishima as "a parade of ghosts from another world."

("The burned portions of the bodies of these people are infected from the inside, even though medicine is put on the surface, and the surface breaks out again," the Jap radio said, adding, "most of them gradually die."

The Jap correspondent said dead at Hiroshima were estimated first at 10,000, but that this figure has now been raised to 70,000, to 80,000. He added that most of the wounded are in extreme pain and shout, "Please kill me, quick!"

The Jap correspondent said the number of dead at Nagasaki is growing day by day and the present estimate of dead, wounded and missing at Nagasaki is 23,000.

Japs Point Out Typo Errors

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Japanese found four possible typographical errors in Gen. MacArthur's surrender instructions and surrender document, and today asked him if they were errors. The text of the message, 35th from the Jap government to the supreme commander, follows:

"In connection with the instrument of surrender and the general order, military and naval, number one handed to our representative at Manila, it is desired that the following points be clarified by the supreme commander for the Allied powers:

"One—Instrume of surrender.

"(A) Whether he supreme commander 's' in pragraph 'b' is meant to read he supreme commander?"

"(B) Whether 'b and other' in paragraph 'b' is meant to read 'by any other'

"Two—General order number one, military and naval.

"(A) Whether 'to' at the beginning of paragraph 'c' of one is erroneously inserted?

"(B) Whether there is not omission of some words before 'to include' in paragraph 'a' of 'IX'?

"Please acknowledge. Thanks."

1st MacArthur Men in Sunday

MANILA, Aug. 24 (AP)—Gen. MacArthur announced today an advance occupation party would land in Japan Sunday to prepare the way for the main forces which will arrive two days later.

A headquarters spokesman declared MacArthur, despite the typhoon which disrupted communications around Tokyo Wednesday, would land on schedule Tuesday.

The fact the first forces would reach Japan Sunday had been trumpeted by the Tokyo radio for days, but this was the first official confirmation.

It came at a time when Japan was complaining to MacArthur that Russia intended to land airborne occupation troops in the northernmost home island of Hokkaido independent of the supreme commander's own plan.

MacArthur's confirmation was in the form of a request communication facilities be made available Sunday for an advance airborne group charged with preparing the Atsugi airfield where MacArthur will land.

MacArthur's request for communications was logical, since the airfield itself is 18 miles from the imperial palace and imperial headquarters.

Instructions for a relatively complex communications setup apparently indicated MacArthur does not expect to close that 18-mile gap immediately.

The advance party will be composed of highly trained experts whose job will be to pave the way for the landings.

Atsugi air field is known to be extremely cramped for American planes and now the Japs report it has been muddied by the typhoon.

With the assistance of the Japs, they are expected to get the field ready to accommodate the hundreds of planes to land two days later.

These developments came as units of Japan's powerful home army began disarming under Hirohito's command to cease hostilities at once without waiting for the articles of surrender to be signed aboard the battleship Missouri in Tokyo bay Aug. 31.

ARMY ROUTE SIGNS DOWN

Emergency automobile route signs set up during the war to aid military traffic in the event of air raids were ordered removed today by Public Works Commissioner Herman A. MacDonald.

Chinese Reds Agree to Parley

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, Aug. 24 (AP)—Conflicting claims to the capture of Kweisui, capital of the Inner Mongolian province of Suiyuan, were made by the Chinese high command and Chinese Communists today as official Communist sources said Mao Tse-tung, Communist leader, had accepted Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's invitation to send a representative to Chungking to seek a peaceful settlement of China's internal situation.

Communist headquarters at Yenan in Shensi Province, said Communist forces entered Kweisui, 260 miles west of Peiping, Aug. 18 and were forcing puppet Mongolian troops, nominally under Jap command, to surrender.

The Chinese high command today said Gen. Fu Tso-yi, Chungking-appointed commander in Suiyuan, took Kweisui Aug. 20.

Attlee, Churchill Score Ending of Lend-Lease

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee told Commons today the sudden end of Lend-Lease put Britain "in a very serious financial position," and former Prime Minister Churchill supported this view.

Attlee said the British government had hoped that Lend-Lease would not have ended without prior consultation.

In response, Churchill, now leader of the opposition, declared: "I cannot believe that this is the last word of the United States. I cannot believe that so great a nation, whose Lend-Lease policy was characterized by me as the most unsordid act in the history of the world, would proceed in such a rough and harsh manner as to hamper a faithful ally who held the fort while their own American armaments were prepared."

Attlee cautioned members of the House to exercise "utmost restraint" within and without the chamber in commenting on the situation, and Churchill agreed that a debate now might be detrimental to national interests. Churchill called Attlee's statement "very grave and disquieting."

The Prime Minister disclosed that Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the United States during the wartime coalition government, had been invited to return to Washington to negotiate the financial arrangement which will succeed Lend-Lease.

Attlee said President Truman's directive cancelled all outstanding Lend-Lease contracts and provided that stocks and deliveries procured under it must now be paid either in cash or negotiated credit arrangements.

"We had not anticipated that operations under the Lend-Lease Act would continue for any length of time after the defeat of Japan," he said, "but we had hoped the sudden cessation of this great mutual effort would not have been effected without consultation and prior discussions."

The Prime Minister said Britain's "overseas outgoings" on the eve of Japanese defeat were equivalent to an annual expenditure of about eight billion dollars, including essential food and other non-munitions supplies "which we must now pay for."

FEA Replies To Britain in War Aid Tiff

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Foreign Economic Admr. Leo T. Crowley said today responsible British officials "must have recognized lend-lease would have to be discontinued after the Japanese war and could not be used as a part of her postwar rehabilitation and reconversion program."

Commenting on Prime Minister Attlee's statement before Commons today that a sudden end to lend-lease had put Britain "in a very serious financial position," Crowley said:

"I had no discretion under the law and under promises made to the Congress of the United States. The late President Roosevelt, Mr. Truman, as Vice-President and President, and I had repeatedly stated lend-lease could not be used for postwar rehabilitation."

Crowley said if that promise to Congress and the American people had bee broken, it "may have jeopardized the whole future authority we would need to have in dealing with economic aid for these countries."

The FEA boss referred a reporter to his testimony before the Senate banking committee July 17 and 18, that lend-lease would be used "only in connection with defense of the United States and effective prosecution of the war to final victory."

"The question was not a sudden end to lend-lease," Crowley said, "but of a sudden ending to the Japanese war."

Crowley said other nations whose economy had been sharply affected by an end to lend-lease "have accepted the decision and are co-operating with us in working the matter out."

Any British expectation that lend-lease could have continued during peacetime, until some suitable credit arrangements had been worked out was "impossible," he said, because "such negotiations would have taken weeks and perhaps months because we have to go through Congress in the matter."

Crowley said the United States had done everything possible within the law to cushion the impact resulting from a quick termination of lend-lease.

He disclosed facilities of the Export-Import Bank had been offered to Britain in an effort to give her sufficient dollars to continue outstanding orders placed under lend-lease.

"We also have offered them the opportunity to obtain lend-lease

Col. Devereux Sends Message to Son, 11

REDONDO BEACH, Cal., Aug. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Lionel Goudeau, a relative, said today she had been notified by the American Red Cross it has a message sent from a Japanese prison camp by Lt. Col. James P. S. Devereux, commander of the Marine garrison on Wake island early in the Pacific war, for his son, Patrick, 11.

Devereux, whose heroic garrison held off Japanese forces for 14 days, recently was reported safe in a Japanese prison camp near Peiping, China.

Runway Crash That Killed 10, K O'd 140 Planes Bared

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Navy disclosed today that 10 men were killed, 85 planes were destroyed and 55 were damaged when a four-engine Navy bomber veered off a runway on Eniwetok atoll in the Marshalls Aug. 9, 1944.

A Consolidated Liberator was taking off on a bombing and reconnaissance mission. Suddenly it turned left and plowed into planes assembled in a replacement pool for carriers.

Seven of the Liberator's nine 500-pound bombs began burning or exploded as flames spread rapidly from the plane's 2900 gallons of gasoline.

The Navy said an investigation board found the pilot "failed to realize the plane was airborne and failed to keep the plane's track along the center of the runway." The pilot was Lt. Romane C. Anderson, whose widow, Florence, lives in Houston, Tex. He and all but one of the 11-man crew were killed.

Capt. Edgar A. Cruise, Hebron, Neb., base commander expressed the opinion the "error on the part of the pilot was aggravated by the crowded condition of the field which required carrier type aircraft arriving that day be parked at the edge of the upwind end of the mat, leaving insufficient room for any deviation on takeoff from the exact center line of the runway. No other space was available."

ALTON BAY RESIDENTS LOOK AT REMAINS OF THEIR FIRE-LEVELLED COTTAGES
Twenty Persons Were Burned and Property Damage Rose to $300,000 as 300 Cottages Were Razed

Burned N. H. Resort Shut As Menace

ALTON BAY, N. H., Aug. 24—Grounds of the Alton Bay Camp Meeting Ass'n, where the worst resort fire in New Hampshire history destroyed 300 cottages, caused $300,000 damage and left 2000 homeless, were ordered closed as a health menace today by the State Department of Public Safety.

Police, fire and building officials ordered a thorough investigation of the spectacular conflagration which roared through the densely-built community with such speed that authorities were amazed there was no loss of life nor even serious injury.

Probe of the blaze, started by an overturned oilstove, was directed by Col. Ralph W. Caswell of Dover, N. H., superintendent of the New Hampshire State Police, whose own cottage, occupied by his wife and family, was destroyed.

Carl S. Magoon of Manchester, secretary of the Camp Meeting Ass'n, said few camp owners had their property insured because rates were extremely high. Most association property, he added, was insured.

The fire broke out at noon, and occurred in the middle of the annual two-week summer convention of the Advent Christian Church.

Firemen from 13 communities in the Lake Winnipesaukee region joined the Alton Bay volunteer department in battling the flames that swept through the frame-constructed camps and cottages like so much tinder.

Only a sudden shift in the wind prevented the entire community from going up in flames, firemen reported.

Destroyed along with the cottages were three chapels and a 1200-seat tabernacle, and a central grove where religious services were conducted.

Rev. George Gray of Connecticut carried an unidentified 7-year-old child from a burning cottage only a few minutes before the structure collapsed.

Roxbury Driver Who Fells Boy Flees on Foot

Robert Fitzsimmons, 8 of Magazine st., Roxbury, was critically injured in Hampden st., near his home, today by a hit-and-run driver who looked briefly at the little victim and then fled on foot.

At City Hospital, doctors operated immediately for multiple injuries and held little hope for the youngster's recovery. Identification was made two hours after the accident and the boy's father, Edward Fitzsimmons, notified.

On checking with the owner of the machine, police said the driver is a 17-year-old South Boston youth who borrowed the car and now is missing.

Gulf Hurricane Moving North

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 24 (AP)—The U. S. Weather Bureau announced this afternoon a hurricane had developed in the southwest Gulf of Mexico. At 1 p. m. it was centered about 200 miles east-southeast of Tampico, Mexico, and was attended by winds of 90 miles per hour over a small center area. Winds up to 75 miles per hour extended outward about 50 miles from the center.

"This dangerous storm is expected to move northward 8 to 10 miles per hour during the next 24 hours," the advisory said.

Anne Gould Sheds Hubby, Weds Again

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., Aug. 24—Married here within a few hours after obtaining a Reno divorce from Army Cpl. Ezra Wogoman of Cody, Wyo., Anne Douglass Gould, heiress to the Jay Gould millions, and her fourth husband, Donald Valentine, 34-year-old violinist, planned today to return to Reno and live in a house she recently purchased there.

ANNE GOULD VALENTINE

She said she had known Valentine for 10 years and had met him many times while he was playing in a wandering cowboy orchestra. Wogoman was formerly a guitar-playing cowboy.

Anne's marriage to Valentine was performed by Justice of the Peace William H. Pollard. She gave her age as 29.

She obtained her third divorce at a private hearing before Reno Judge A. J. Maestretti, on grounds of separation and non-support. She was given the right to resume her maiden name and stated at the time that she had no immediate intention of remarrying.

Wogoman was not represented by counsel, but submitted himself to the jurisdiction of the court, by filing an appearance in proper person. He asked for counsel fees on the basis that his Army pay did not warrant the $250 minimum fee asked by local attorneys.

In answer to his wife's complaint, Wogoman stipulated that he entered the Army in June, 1942, and was a $24-a-week cowboy entertainer when he married the heiress in 1941.

He asked for alimony and other benefits, contending that his estranged wife had an $850 a month income. These were denied.

Selznick-Mayer Marriage on Rocks

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 24—The breaking up of the 15-year-old marriage of David and Irene Selznick came as a shock today to their friends, even though rumors have been fast and furious the past few years that all was not well.

MRS. IRENE SELZNICK

Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Mayer, married David Selznick, an ambitious and brainy young man, at the home of her parents, April 29, 1930.

David, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Selznick, was brought up in the atmosphere of motion pictures. It was a subject he knew and which his bride had known all her life.

The two started out with all the good things in the world—money, position and, most important, love and happiness.

David became one of the most prominent film producers in the world. He has perhaps the greatest lineup of stars of any producer in the business.

Under contract to him are Ingrid Bergman, Jennifer Jones, Shirley Temple, Joan Fontaine, Joseph Cotten, Gregory Peck, Alan Marshall, Dorothy McGuire and many others.

The Selznicks have two boys—Lewis Jeffery, 13, and Daniel, 11. They are with their mother in the beautiful colonial home in Beverly Hills which Irene and David had planned so proudly only a few years ago.

Irene said the decision was hard to make, but it seemed the best way.

"We haven't been getting along and under those conditions the only thing to do was separate. Neither of us plans a divorce."

Monty in Hospital After Crash Landing

BERLIN, Aug. 24 (INS)—Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery has been hospitalized as the result of a plane crash on Wednesday.

It was reported today his injuries are not serious but he suffered painful bruises when his plane was forced to make a crash landing.

7000 Offered Jobs in State

Employment security officials announced today approximately 7000—more than one-third—Massachusetts workers filing claims for unemployment compensation after being laid off war jobs in the week following V-J Day had been referred to new positions.

How many had accepted the positions to which they were directed by the employment service has not been determined, however, as returns have not been filed in the majority of referrals.

Director Robert E. Marshall said this was indicative of a rapid turnover of those made jobless by reconversion shutdowns or military production cutbacks into steady peacetime employment.

Marshall also pointed out a wide range of peacetime employment already was noticeable. In the Salem-Peabody-Beverly area, he said, numerous positions were open in the metal trades, leather and textile industries, general manufacturing, retail trade and miscellaneous services.

Although the New England total of unemployed jumped to 150,000, Arthur C. Gernes, refional director of the War Manpower Commission, said that a large number of these would be re-employed within 10 days.

"In our opinion, the situation will be considerably clarified and improved after Labor Day," Gernes said.

Meantime, John W. Stokes of the Massachusetts Restaurant Ass'n reported that restaurants throughout the state were clamoring for help, with openings available for 5000 to 10,000 workers. Hotels also were in similar straits.

"We're inthe most desperate situation we ever faced," on prominent hotelman stated. "Some of the jobs going begging are good office positions, and there are openings for cooks, salad makers, waitresses, cleaners, chambermaids and everything right down the line."

The Retail Gasoline Dealers' Ass'n reported that thousands of filling stations throughout the state are in need of help.

35,000 Idle In 27 Strikes

By Associated Press

More than 35,000 persons were idle today in 27 labor disputes, some of which developed since the Japanese surrender, others of long standing.

Victory holiday pay was at issue in two large stoppages in Pennsylvania.

Oldest strike was that in the Los Angeles motion picture industry, where a jurisdictional disgrute between the AFL Painters' Union and the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes is in its fifth month.

Ruml, Atty.-Gen. Clark Back Full Employment Program

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—A five-point supplement to the so-called "Full Employment" bill, including a budget-balancing tax program, was proposed to Congress today by Beardsley Ruml, original advocate of pay-as-you-go tax legislation.

Ruml and Tom Clark, Attorney-General, voiced approval of the job bill's objectives, as witnesses before the Senate banking and currency committee.

The pay-as-you-go proponent, chairman of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, laid before the Senators these proposals for legislation to strengthen the full employment objectives:

1—Reform of Social Security financing that "will take the deflation out of Social Security."

2—"We should have a regular federal policy and program in public works and conservation that will tend to stabilize the construction industry at an appropriate level."

3—"We should work out our federal tax program so that rates will be set to balance the budget at high employment."

4—Federal lending activities at home and abroad should be associated harmoniously in federal fiscal policy.

5—A policy and program should be adopted directed toward maintaining a prosperous agriculture.

Ruml did not go into details of his legislative proposals, but he told the Senators "the greater the freedom of the consumer, farmer or businessman to make his own decision as to how he spends or saves his money the nearer will be our approach to true economic democracy under our full employment policies."

The Pilot Cites Red Strike Peril in U.S.

A "well-organized, cleverly planned" Communist program of strikes and "marches on Washington" during the reconversion period was predicted today by The Pilot, official archdiocesan publication, in an editorial which called the present situation "fraught with deadly peril."

"Everyone knows that this gigantic task will cause temporary hardship, and until factories can reconvert some will want jobs and won't get them," the editorial declared.

"Don't think for a moment that our Communist party-liners have missed any of this handwriting on the wall. Arbitrary, uncalled-for strikes will be encouraged; Coxey armies will march to Washington.

"We shall be told how much better they manage these things in Russia where 'the state exists for the workers, not for the Rockefellers and duPonts'."

Calling it "silly" to expect Stalin to order an end to the Communist campaign, the editorial proposed that no American money be lent to Russia unless two conditions be met.

"First, insist that Stalin suspend the Communist conspiracy against our institutions," The Pilot advised.

"Secondly, insist that he consent to implement the Atlantic Charter in the nations which have found the Hammer and Sickle a symbol more oppressive than the Swastika."

Replying to what it termed charges of "warmongering" by the Catholic press, the Pilot declared "our only intention is to save our people from seduction" by Communism.

"An Englishman never dreams of compelling Americans to turn English, but Communism won't rest until the whole world is marching lock-step toward that pot of gold Marx promised at the end of the rainbow," the editorial declared.

Dachau Head to Die For Killing Yank

DACHAU, Germany, Aug. 24 (AP)—The first war crimes court to sit in the former Dachau concentration camp today sentenced Franz Strasser to be hanged for killing an American flier and wounding another.

The 45-year-old former Nazi district leader in Czechoslovakia received the sentence without emotion.

40-Mile Speed Set For Merritt Parkway

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., Aug. 24 (AP)—The Merritt Parkway Commission, an agency which controls the 38-mile, four-lane super-highway running from Greenwich to Stratford, has set a maximum speed limit of 40 miles per hour.

The prewar limit was 50 miles an hour.

Aussies Resent UNRRA Red Veto

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)— Russia vetoed a proposal of Australia today to add Brazil, Yugoslavia and Australia to the central committee of UNRRA and the delegate from the continent Down Under termed the oviet action "almost insulting."

Assistant Secretary of State Will Clayton asked all countries which supply funds to UNRRA to contribute another 1 per 3 cent of their national income, warning that if the American share rose beyond 75 per cent of the total Congress might balk.

The American delegate, Rupert Emerson, did not vote because, he said, the Russian position made passage of the resolution impossible.

S. M. Bruce, Australian delegate, said Russia gave no reason for her opposition.

The council voted unanimously to extend relief to Korea and Formosa, which are to be removed from the Japanese empire.

Cab Co. Appeals Loss of License

Fighting to retain the right to operate taxicabs, Louis Hersch, manager of the Safety Cab Co., tolay appealed to the Supreme Court for reversal of Police Commr. Thomas F. Sullivan's revocation of 31 cab licenses held by the firm.

Hersch, in his petition for a writ of certiorari, contended he was given no prior notice of the intention to revoke the licenses. He said Sullivan's letter of Aug. 10 revoking the licenses charged that Hersch was "not a suitable person to be so licensed," although the licenses had been renewed in February.

The firm recently lost an appeal in federal court from an OPA order which suspended it for the war's duration for alleged black market operations in gasoline.

The cabs operated chiefly in the Charlestown district.

Britain to Release Million From Service

LONDON (AP)—The government told Commons it expected to release more than 1,000,000 persons from the armed services by the end of the year and about 1,150,000 from war production.

Auto-Making Curbs Off but 5th Tire Banned

By MAX HALL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The government today threw open the gates on auto-making. It told the manufacturers to make as many cars as they can.

This news—official O. K. to the auto-makers, although everyone knew it was coming—followed by a few hours a move by President Truman to keep harmony between management and labor.

He called a White House conference of representatives of business, labor and government.

The government meanwhile had set forth some good news for Americans on the home front—about food, butter, cheese, canned milk. All are to be more plentiful and the end of rationing on several items seems near.

The order on autos turns loose the entire energy of the industry to get into full production to fill the pent-up demand of four years for cars.

Weather-vane for American industry as a whole, the auto industry thus has a chance to set the pace in producing for peace.

But the new cars cannot hit the retail stores with spare tires. The War Production Board said they can roll off the assembly lines with only the four tires on the wheels. The fifth tire is an OPA ban that may be lifted soon.

Tires are still scarce and must be conserved to go around.

A Short Shorts Story

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Manufacturers of lightweight underwear demanded immediate price relief today and said some mills will have to close down unless they get it.

Roy Cheney, president of the Underwear Institute, said OPA had advised manufacturers that higher prices could not be granted unless they are approved by Economic Stabilizer William H. Davis.

Unless increased ceiling prices are granted immediately, Cheney said, "quite a number" of plants making lightweight underwear—men's shorts and shirts, women's panties, etc.—will have to close, further decreasing available supplies to civilians. He estimated that the closing of plants might throw as many as 40,000 persons out of work.

Vacating Apartment Can Be Hectic, Too

Finding an apartment these days is supposed to be tough but the wife of a Navy pharmacist and her sister complained in municipal court today that they had a hectic time vacating their beacon st. quarters.

Their troubles revolved around the keys and the return of the deposit they paid on them when first they took the apartment.

Mrs. Katherine Dorius, wife of Ph. M. 2C Keith Dorius, and her sister, Miss Geraldine Hughes, now of Newbury st., charged Miss Elizabeth Krauss and her sister, Mrs. Catherine Flanagan, Beacon st. landladies, with assault and battery.

According to the tenants' story to Judge Frank W. Tomasello, Miss Krauss objected to Miss Hughes occupying a basement apartment with her sister and brother-in-law. The landlady, Mrs. Dorius testified, thought it was "immoral and indecent for the three of us to be living together."

"She offered to let Geraldine stay for another $1.50 a week, however," Mrs. Dorius testified.

The tenants decided to move and offered Miss Krauss two of the three keys to the apartment. Miss Krauss refused to return the $3 deposit until all three keys were given up, Mrs. Dorius testified.

The third key was with Dorius at the Navy Yard, however. Before he was notified by his wife to hurry over with it, Mrs. Dorius an her sister testified, Miss Kauss and Mrs. Flanagan "pushed, shoved and jostled us."

Dorius' arrival with the key ended the troubles and the tenants left for their new apartment.

Miss Krauss and Mrs. Flanagan denied assaulting the younger women. In fact, they testified that Mrs. Dorius and Miss Hughes did some pushing themselves.

The landladies' counsel, Atty. David A. Pfromm, assured Judge Tomasello "such things can't occur in such a fine neighborhood with two women of this type who have business of large proportions."

Judge Tomasello filed the charge without a finding with the comment that the landladies "used poor judgment."

Jailed in Theft Of Hero's $1050

Charged with larceny of $1050 and a watch from a Rumford, Me., war hero, Arthur L. Putnam, Jr., 23, Lynnfield ex-merchant seaman, pleaded guilty in municipal court today and was sentenced to three months in jail.

Detective Paul Crowley told Judge Frank W. Tomasello that Putnam took the money and watch from S-Sgt. Leo Arsenault, 27, following a chance meeting in a downtown hotel bar.

In the lineup, Putnam said he and Arsenault "drank a lot" and the soldier gave him the money for safekeeping. He said they went shopping and bought sport clothes.

Police said Putnam had $445 and Arsenault's watch.

Arsenault, a paratrooper on leave from the 13th Airborne Division, agreed he turned his money over to Putnam but denied giving him permission to spend it.

254,987 Tires Released by Army

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (INS)—Civilian-needed tires costing five and a quarter million dollars were released by the Army today as war surplus.

The 254,987 tires, primarily truck and trailer sizes, will be sold by the Commerce Department, and the War Department further brightened the picture by announcing that 60,000 6x16 heavy duty tubes have been released.

Notables See Cardinal O'Connell Ship Service

By FRANK REILLY

SOUTH PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 24—With hundreds of clergymen and Army, Navy and civilian dignitaries attending, the 10,000-ton merchant ship William Cardinal O'Connell was christened here today in honor of the late archbishop of Boston.

The big vessel, originally intended as an aircraft repair ship, was sponsored by Mrs. Mary O'Connell Ryan of Park st., Newton, Mass., a niece of the noted churchman.

More than a score of well known Greater Boston churchmen, as well as Boston's mayor and Massachusetts' governor, were included in the large delegation of Bay Staters who came for the ceremony by special train and automobile.

The recently completed vessel has been assigned to the American Export Lines and soon will see peacetime service.

The Rt. Rev. Jehemiah E. Minihan, D. D., of Boston, secretary to the late cardinal, blessed the ship at the yards of the New England Shipbuilding Corp., as a representative of Archbishop Richard J. Cushing. Similar blessing was given by the Rev. Samuel E. Donovan of St. Patrick's Church, Portland, as representative of Bishop Joseph E. McCarthy of Portland.

Included among the long list of speakers were Gov. Tobin of Massachusetts, Mayor Kerrigan of Boston, R. Adm. Oliver Read, commander of the Atlantic destroyer fleet; Col. Jesse Sinclair, commander of Portland harbor defenses; Andrew B. Sides, president of the shipbuilding company, and Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine.

Representing Lowell, Mass., the birthplace of Cardinal O'Connell, was Bartholomew J. Callery, Jr., Lowell city councilor and State Representative.

In paying tribute to the late religious leader, Mayor Kerrigan said: "In naming this ship the William Cardinal O'Connell, the citizens of New England and the nation are paying fitting tribute to one of our country's outstanding leaders—one whose name now and forever will be a symbol of truth, righteousness and justice throughout the world.

"As mayor of Boston and in the name of the citizens of Boston I am proud to join in this honor being paid to the memory of a great American and a great priest."

After the christening ceremonies the Bay Staters and their guests attended a luncheon at the Old Orchard Country Club and late this afternoon were scheduled to return to Boston.

Who's Papa, Uncle? Junior Is Confused

SUMMIT, N. J., Aug. 24—After a four-year odyssey of marriage and divorce, adventurous Martha Curtiss Potter, 24, returned home to papa today with her 3-year-old son, Richard Potter, who certainly must be confused over it all as the rest of the folks.

For little Richard can call his real father, George Thomas Potter, both his dad and his uncle and also can share his affection with Joseph R. Potter both as a nephew and a step-son.

Perhaps it isn't as involved as it seems for the dashing Martha now is the ex-wife of both George and Joseph, 35-year-old twin brothers of Newark. Both are chemists and wealthy, as is Martha's father, Lloyd Curtiss, a munitions merchant.

Curtiss said today that everyone concerned was happily awaiting Martha's return and that all had "a perfect understanding" concerning his daughter's unusual romances, marriages and divorces.

The cycle began Aug. 2, 1941, when Martha married George at a fashionable wedding here at her parents' home. Joe was best man.

Richard was born of that marriage and two years later Martha went to Reno to charge her husband with incompatibility in a divorce action. She returned home with her divorce but soon went back to the great outdoors of Nevada.

Undoubtedly it was mere coincidence, but about that time Joe went to California on a business trip and just dropped in on Martha at Virginia City, Nev., to see how his sister-in-law was getting along.

It was just no time at all, after long hikes in the romantic beauty of Virginia City, that Joseph and Martha decided they should be one.

So as bride and bridegroom they came home to the Curtiss home in Summit, and George took it in good grace, Calling frequently to see his son, his brother, and his ex-wife.

But this new love didn't stand the test, and Martha and her young son soon skedaddled back to Reno for a second appearance in the Nevada divorce courts. It was incompatibility again.

She obtained the second divorce three weeks ago and departed for home Aug. 14.

So now you see why Richard, who hasn't been saying the word daddy for very long, can't be blamed for making a mistake. A child of 3 years cannot be expected to have reached the same degree of understanding as his more mature elders.

DeGaulle Seeks Long Time Trade Pact With U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) —Gen. Charles de Gaulle proposed today the United States draw up a long-range economic program with France to promote permanent reconstruction of that war-ravaged country.

He said America is furnishing "appreciable help and already a vast total has been reached" with the prospect of 1,000,000 tons monthly of supplies flowing out of this country to France.

But all this, De Gaulle told a news conference, is stuff needed immediately such as food, materials for current industrial operations and some coal.

"For purposes of reconstruction," he said, "we must get together and draw up a program."

Meeting reporters shortly before resuming conversations with President Truman, De Gaulle replied to almost two score questions.

Much of what De Gaulle said provided clear indications of the trend of the conversations. Some of the main points made by De Gaulle:

France intends to retain control for the indefinite future on the left bank of the Rhine.

The future of Germany depends both on the ability of the big powers to co-operate in controlling Germany and on the reaction of the Germans themselves to defeat and freedom from Naziism.

There will be changes in Spain as a result of the United Nations' victory in the European war.

As to whether he would be willing to grant the United States a naval base in New California, De Gaulle said that sort of problem is really one for international security settlement. At Noumea the United States has been using a base throughout the Pacific war through "only a provisional arrangement."

French policy on Indo-China, about which Paris and London have recently been in dispute over immediate occupation forces, "contemplates an Indo-Chinese government of Indo-Chinese people and French living there" under a representative of the Paris government.

De Gaulle discussed the German situation at some length. He said "France has no claim to annexing any German territory." But there have been parts of German territory, he said, always used as the gateway to attack France.

Alaska Salmon Pack Smallest Since 1927

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) —This season's pack of Alaska salmon is lagging nearly a half million cases behind last year and the 1945 total may be the smallest since 1927. The pack has reached 3,230,111 cases, compared with 3,694,449 last year.

Fishing continues until the latter part of October.

Low Southern Rail Rates Seen Blow to Boston

Asserting that subnormal railroad freight rates being sought by southern railroads would be injurious to coastwise shipping lines and deal a severe blow to the Port of Boston, the Chamber of Commerce's Maritime Ass'n filed a petition today to intervene in proceedings before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"If the proposed through rates from Washington and Virginia gateways to southern destinations are permitted by theICC," declared Mgr. Frank S. Davis, "they would be injurious to coastwise shipping and retard resumption of Boston's prewar coastwise service, adversely affecting the Port of Boston at the very dawn of a new era of promise.

"These rates, coupled with similar rates from New England to Washington and Virginia gateways, would result in sub-normal through rates and divert to all-rail routes a substantial volume of the postwar freight which moved by coastwise lines before the war."

The petition also explains that Ne wEngland industries would be deprived of water transportation they used substantially before the war and that approval of the proposed rates would nullify efforts to revive this steamship service.

Arrest Taunton Man in Midwest

Sought since June on a larceny charge, Charles P. Spake, 26, of Taunton, former vault custodian of the Bristol County Trust Co., has been arrested in North Prairie, Wis., by FBI agents, E. A. Soucy, agent in charge of the Boston office, announced today.

Soucy said he had been informed by Milwaukee FBI agents Spake had admitted taking $9000 from a safety deposit box and $400 or $500 more of box rental receipts. He had $561 left and allegedly admitted spending the rest gambling.

Spake had been employed at the bank from last November until June, when he left for a one-week vacation and did not return. During his vacation a depositor complained that $9000 was missing from his safe deposit box.

He will be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner in Milwaukee on a fugitive warrant and later returned to Boston to face larceny charges.

G. L. Cabot, 84, Flying to Europe

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Godfrey Lowell Cabot, 84-year-old Bostonian who made his first transatlantic crossing by motor-sailer in 1883, left LaGuardia airport today on his 44th European trip — the first by air.

G. L. Cabot

President of Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., and of the International Air Federation of Paris, which has a world-wide membership of aeronautical clubs, he said he was going abroad to revive the federation.

Cabot, a long time aviation enthusiast who won his wings during World War I, predicted the present increase in air travel would continue at about 10 to 15 per cent a year, with air freight increasing faster than passenger travel for the next five years.

His first Atlatic crossing was aboard the Cunarder Parthia, which used sails during her 12-day trip. He is one of 45 passengers aboard a Pan-American Clipper. He lives at 242 Beacon st.

Cocky Jap Who Liked War Better Surrenders His 295

OKINAWA, Aug. 24 (AP)—Led by a tough, cocky little major, 274 Jap soldiers and 21 officers marched by squads from the hills of Tokashiki island in the Kerama group today in compliance with the surrender they signed with Lt. Col. Haviland Connolly, Decatur, Ill., commander of the 24th Inf. Rgt.

The surrender followed by two days capitulation of 225 men and 14 officers on nearby Aka island. Both surrenders were negotiated by psychological warfare officers who dropped leaflets containing the text of the emperor's speech and put Nisei soldiers at the microphones explaining over loudspeakers the war was over.

Maj. Roshitsugo Akamatsu of the Tokashita island garrison, which consisted primarily of suicide boat crews without boats, refused to surrender until he received a personal letter from Lt. Col. Yoji Tsikjmoto of the Japanese Imperial 32d Army. Only then did Akamatsu—a surly 26-year-old—come to Connolly's headquarters and sign the surrender—with the flip comment: "I enjoyed shooting at each other more than doing this."

Akamatsu told Connolly his men could have held out for at least three years with provisions they had left. When he boasted he had most of his military strength left, Connolly smilingly injected: "You haven't seen my 75's (75-millimeter field pieces) yet."

To this Akamatsu shot back: "If you want to, we'll go back to the hills and start this over again."

Akamatsu, who said he would rather die than go back to Japan without his sword, had another parting shot as he started back to get his men. Looking cooly at Col. Connolly, he said:

"Aren't you getting a little old for this sort of thing?"

Connolly, who at 33 is tough and balding, snorted and sent a squad back up the mountain path with Akamatsu. Not halfway back to his camp, the Jap officer passed out from the strain of the climb.

With the surrendering garrison there were two Korean "comfort girls" in their early twenties.

Koroseal Makes Clothes, Paper, Furniture

By JEANETTE SMITS

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (INS)—Scrubbable furniture, washable Scrubable furniture, washable look," brilliantly colored apparel for beach, sports and stormy weather are on their way.

They're the product of one of the most versatile synthetic materials of the postwar era—koroseal, the coke-limestone-salt derivative created by B. F. Goodrich engineers.

More than 100 of these novel creations in apparel, home furnishings and other accessories are on view here through Sept. 21.

Among the objects were rainwear in sheer colors and transparent, for men, women and children, including a tiny raincoat for a 2-year-old. There was also a reversible opera coat of black Shetland and white rainproof koroseal

Even before the war, consumers were familiar with the material in umbrella covers, rainwear, shower curtains, transparent belts and suspenders.

Dr. Waldo Semon of Akron, O., is the inventor of polyvinyl chloride resin, koroseal's chamical name.

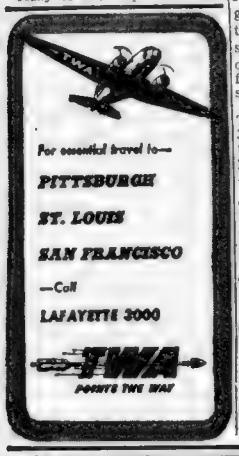
41 Ships in Harbor Revive Hub's Glory

Boston Harbor presented a scene of activity today reminiscent of its erstwhile maritime glory, with the arrival of two more Army transports and with 39 other ships in port using most of the available berths.

Many of the ships that have recently arrived with military personnel from overseas are undergoing repairs or being reconditioned for cargo trade. Four steamers will take on full cargoes of grain and other relief supplies for the UNRRA and 10 others are scheduled to follow shortly.

Arriving today were the James Turner with 425 troops, of which 35 are from New England, and the Benjamin Bourne with 74 surplus personnel, 51 of them New Englanders.

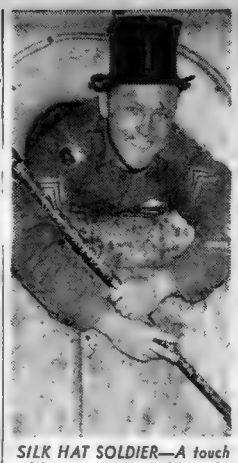
Tomorrow the Army transport Gen. Goethals will arrive and berth at Commonwealth pier to debark 1975 military personnel, including 88 nurses and five Red Cross workers.



Real Hooker

SEDALIA, Mo., Aug. 24 (AP)—Woman's ego took a terrific deflating at the Missouri State Fair here yesterday.

In the hooked rug competition, 71-year-old James Hoyle of Kansas City took the blue ribbon for the finest exhibit.



SILK HAT SOLDIER—A touch of humor was injected into the arrival of the SS Button Gwinnett at the Army Base when Sgt. John Gill, Hatboro, Pa., appeared in a porthole with his tall silk hat and cane. He purchased the raiment in Germany.

Truk Japs Shoot No More at Yanks

TINIAN, Aug. 22 (delayed) (AP)—Pending the promise of a peaceful occupation of the once strongly defended and heavily fortified Jap naval bastion of Truk, U. S. Naval fliers reported today the Japs there had waved greetings to them instead of sending up the usual heavy anti-aircraft fire.

The intimation of the changed attitude was reported by the crew of a Navy Harpoon attack-bomber of Fleet Air Wing 18, which cruised more than an hour over the island's atoll, sometimes only 50 feet above the gun fringed runways of the airfield.

Dividend Declared On Hearst Stock

(Special to the Boston Evening American)

SAN FRANCISCO—The board of directors of Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc., met and declared a dividend for the current quarterly period ended August 31, 1945, of one and seventy-five one-hundredths per cent (equivalent to 43¾ cents per share) on the outstanding class A stock of the corporation, payable September 15, 1945, to stockholders of record September 1, 1945.

N. E. Vet Forgets

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 24 (AP)—The prize for the most absent-minded veteran at the AAF redistribution station No. 1 goes to T-Sgt. Karl J. Letters, a B-17 turret gunner of Leominister, Mass.

Up for discharge, he was scheduled to leave with other returnees for the Ft. Devens, Mass., separation center.

The others caught the train. Letters explained how he missed it:

"I guess I was so excited I forgot the time."

He was at head of the line, however, for the next separation shipment.

Petain Takes Exile In Prison Calmly

PAU, France, Aug. 24 (AP)—Ex-Marshal Petain, under sentence of life imprisonment on charges of intelligence with the enemy, is taking his confinement calmly in a prison cell of bleak Portalet fortress high in the Pyrenees just south of Pau.

The former marshal of France and chief of the Vichy state, head of the Legion of Honor, with two ex-ministers of his government, Abel Bonnard and Marcel Deat, spends most of his time in an armchair at a window.

War Aid

shipments stockpiled here or in the pipeline or even in the process of manufacture after V-J Day under conditions that they pay for them over a 30-year period at 2% per cent interest," he said.

In addition, Crowley said FEA had offered to continue its procurement machinery now in operation so as not to disturb the even flo wof goods.

"What more could have been done, I don't know," said Crowley, "if our promises to the Congress and American people who have appropriated approximately 40 billion dollars for lend-lease was to be kept."

President Truman had no comment on British reaction.

A recapitulation of lend-lease aid during the war showed more than half of $40,000,000,000 spent by this country, or $29,000,000,000, went to the United Kingdom. In return, Britain supplied $5,000,000,000 of the $5,500,000,000 total goods and services received as reverse lend-lease.

Protesting British Told U. S. Larder Slim

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Three visiting Congressmen told British reporters today that the United States "cupboard is getting mighty bare."

The three, Mundt (R.) of South Dakota, Bolton (R.) of Ohio and Ryter (D.) of Florida, are members of the House foreign affairs committee.

A British reporter asked: "Don't you think it was a little rough to end Lend-Lease shipments so abruptly?"

Mundt, the spokesman, said, "No, the war is over."

Mrs. Bolton said she had not seen butter in her home for five months, that sugar was hard to get, meat was scarce and fowl almost impossible to obtain in the United States.

"Where does it all go?" a British reporter asked.

"I wish we knew," Mrs. Bolton replied.

Let Germany Build, Says Ike

BELFAST, Aug. 24 (AP)—Gen. Eisensower said today that the military government of Germany could not be purely negative control and declared the Germans "should be encourgaed to build free institutions suitable to their needs."

"INTER-AMERICAN" OUT

HARTFORD, Ct., Aug. 24 (AP)—Volume 1 of Connecticut Inter-American, a four-page monthly paper intended for circulation in Connecticut and among a large number of organizations in Latin-American republics, made its bow here today.

Kamikaze Perils Own Jap Leaders

OKINAWA, Aug. 24 (INS)—Japanese surrender emissaries in their flight to Manila last week had to take a roundabout route to avoid being shot down by their own stubborn, war-loving suicide pilots.

Some of the Kamikaze boys threatened to prevent the surrender conferences, so the delegates flew north from Tokyo, then west, south and east.

Though their country has quit, these Kamikaze pilots cannot seem to see their way clear to getting out of their suicide oath which binds them to sacrifice their lives for an Emperor who no longer wants them to do so.

Little Old Woman Evicted, But Follows Her $5000

CHICAGO, Aug. 24 (INS)—A frail little woman in an old sweater, men's oversized oxfords and a dirty babushka was determined today to go where her $5000 fortune goes.

Her landlord evicted her, with her pots and pans, cot, stove, two chairs and $5000 when she refused to pay $15 rent on her flat.

The $5000 was mostly in nickles and dimes, kept in a scrub bucket, wash boiler, salt and potato bags and coffee pots. One pillow case, however, was filled with bills.

She told policemen her name was Becky Kushner and she was 60 years old. She complained that two children had stolen two dresses, containing money, as she camped by the building from which she was evicted.

The officers loaded the slightly built and stooped woman into a patrol wagon, then loaded her fortune beside her because she refused to let it out of her sight.

For $25 a Brink's Express Co. armored truck would collect the money, count it automatically, seal it, and place it in a bank of the owners' choice, police officers explained.

But, she said, she didn't trust banks.

"I go where the money goes," she insisted.

Neighbors said she made her living by scrubbing floors and begging pennies.

Army Finds Homes for 3 Children GI Took to Camp

CAMP LEE, Va., Aug. 24 (AP)—A group of officers, WACs and Army nurses, who dropped their military manners for a day and took charge of three homeless little girls whose harassed father brought them to camp, waved good-by to them this morning as they set off for their new homes in Philadelphia.

The father, Pvt. Louis Price, who brought the children to camp with him because he didn't know what to do with them after his wife had been hospitalized, went along on the trip. The party, driven by Maj. Harold Conner, Philadelphia lawyer and executive officer of the Quartermaster Board here, was expected to arrive in the Quaker City this afternoon.

A home for two of the brown-eyed children—Diana and Sheila, 3-year-old twins—was found in Philadelphia at the Home for the Assistance of Jewish children. Marian, 9, will live with her aunt, Mrs. Jean Dimmer of Philadelphia.

The little girls, wearing identical new green and white pullover sweaters and matching green and white hair ribbons given them by the brigadier general's wife and a group of women volunteer workers, listened solemnly as Brig. Gen. Geroge A. Horkan, commanding officer of the camp, told them he had given them an "honorable discharge." They shook hands with officers, clambored into the car and waved from the window until the camp was out of sight.

Wax Recording Haunts Quisling

OSLO, Aug. 24 (AP)—Vidkun Quisling's own words came back from wax today to haunt him at his trial for high treason.

The prosecution produced and played a recording of Quisling's speech of April 9, 1940, calling on Norwegians on the day the Germans invaded to put aside their arms.

Quisling impatiently conceded that the speech was his own.

About 40 more witnesses will be called to give evidence against Quisling as the prosecution indicated its case would be completed today.

Boston Acts to Buy C. G. Fire Equipment

Boston awaited a reply from Coast Guard officials in Washington today to a request for the fireboats and other marine fire fighting equipment used by the Coast Guard here during the war. The material is scheduled to be disposed of soon.

Telegrams were sent to Sens. Walsh and Saltonstal and to Adm. Waesche, commandant of the Coast Guard, informing them the city of Boston was interested in procuring the equipment.

Allergy Bruised Wife, Writer Bruce Says

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 24 (AP)—Attorneys for movie writer George Bruce said they would call medical experts to testify that it was an allergy—not a beating by Brucethat—gave his wife, Concert Violinist Erna Rubenstein, a bruised appearance last month.

As the writer's trial on his wife's assault and battery charge opened, the violinist denied that she was subject to an allergy.

BERLIN, Aug. 24 (AP)—Leo Borchard, conductor of the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, was shot to death shortly before midnight when his automobile failed to heed an American outpost's command to halt.

Mere Routine

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24 (AP)—John Mahan, a Fairmount Park guard, saw a fully-clothed man dive 65 feet from a bridge into the Schuylkill river.

Hailing another guard, Mahan launched a boat and hauled out Louis McPherson, 38.

"I just wanted a swim," said the unharmed McPherson.

Youth Beaten By 3 Soldiers

Just as he bid his girl friend good-by, Albert F. DeMarco, 28, of Andrews st., Lynn, was beaten unconscious by three soldiers today in front of her home in March st., Salem.

The victim later made his way to the Beverly police station and, through a misunderstanding, a state-wide search was started in the belief that his girl friend, Miss Gertrude Berry, had been kidnaped by the soldiers. She was found safe at home.

DeMarco said the three men leaped on him and that he still was dazed when he wandered into the Beverly station, after crossing the bridge from Salem.

Before going to the police, the injured youth had made his way back to the Berry home, where Miss Berry dressed his wounds but he could not remember this incident.

Some words fool you:

TRAIN means...

TRAIN means...

but BALLANTINE Ale always means...

Purity, Body, Flavor!

Train is one of those confusing words with more than one meaning. Sometimes it means to teach, to drill. You train a dog to do tricks. Sometimes it means a connected line of cars . . . the railroad train it's smart to stay off these days . . . because it's so crowded and unpleasant . . . and even if you do fight your way on, you're pretty sure to wind up unhappy as well as uncomfortable, when you realize you're crowding a service man off.

In pleasant contrast to those words that fool you is the word "Ballantine." It always means PURITY, BODY, FLAVOR . . . the qualities symbolized by Peter Ballantine's century-old, 3-ring trade mark. Wind up your day the pleasant way . . . with a bottle of Ballantine.

Kids' Spree Solves Break

Buying of banana splits, candy and sporting goods on a wholesale scale solved a $1000 Everett break today and landed five Everett youngsters, ranging from 14 to 16 years, before Judge Maurice R. Flynn in Malden Court.

The five boys tearfully told of taking $700 in cash, two $25 war bonds and a quantity of wedding gifts from the office of the contracting firm of C. Repucci & Sons, Inc., Dexter st., Everett. They were held for hearing in juvenile court next Wednesday.

Police had little difficulty solving the break. They just checked on local ice cream parlors and soon had the gang rounded up.

Seeking to recover a platinum and diamond engagement ring which he claims Miss Jean Bayley of Goodale rd., Mattapan, has refused to return after declining to marry him, Louis Zaharoff of Nightingale st., Dorchester, obtained a restraining order today in Suffolk Superior Court.

The case is returnable Aug. 30.

In his petition, Zaharoff, recently discharged from the service, claims he and the young woman became engaged last April 20 and exchanged rings. Last Aug. 5, he said, she told him to "go his way" and that she would not marry him. He said he returned her ring but that she has refused to return his.

Portland Ship Yards to Be Sold

SOUTH PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 24 (AP)—The New England Shipbuilding Corp. yards here will be declared surplus government property tomorrow, U. S. Sen. Owen Brewster (R.) of Maine said today, and will be offered for sale at public auction.

Brewster asserted the Reconstruction Finance Corp. had been designated to handle disposal of the $24,000,000 plant. He did not know yet, he added, how soon the sales would be held.

Immediately after Japan surrendered the Maritime Commission, owner of the property, announced termination of contracts for four zipper ships and 12 tankers.

With today's chrisening of the SS. Cardinal O'Connell that left only two zipper ships—8000-ton modified Libertys designed as aircraft repair vessels—to be built here.

The Yards' employment roll has dwindled to about 6000 from a wartime peak of 32,000.

Navy Halts Repairs On Hub Ship, 16 Others

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Navy announced today it had ordered repair work stopped on 17 battle-damaged ships at various naval and private repair yards.

Ultimate disposition of the ships has not yet been determined, the Navy said. The ships included the Forrest, minesweeper, at the Boston Navy Yard.

Stilwell Tells Reason of Shift

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24—(AP)—Rep. Ellis E. Patterson, (D.), California, declared Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell had advised him he was asked to leave his China command "because he told Chiang Kai-shek he wanted the ammunition we were furnishing him to be used against the Japs and not against Chinese."

Patterson, addressing a local Democratic luncheon club, said Stilwell, who, after leaving China was assigned to the Pacific combat area, made the remarks to him and other members of a congressional delegation which recently visited him at Okinawa.

Reich Poles Vote On Going Home

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN GERMANY, Aug. 24 (AP)—More than 500,000 Poles in the British occupation zone of Germany will be asked in a plebiscite starting today:

"Are you willing to return to Poland now under conditions as you know them?"

British sources said it would be emphasized that if the Poles refuse now they will have a further opportunity to make their choice, but this plebiscite was to avoid delay.

Antique Bivalves

Even though it's not an R-month, it still is Friday and the sight of a ton of oyster shells piled high in Berkeley st., near the New Haven R. R. bridge excited pedestrians and motorists today.

But the shells were merely shells and had been for many years.

They had been removed during a manhole excavation, having apparently been used as fill for the marshy area in that section.

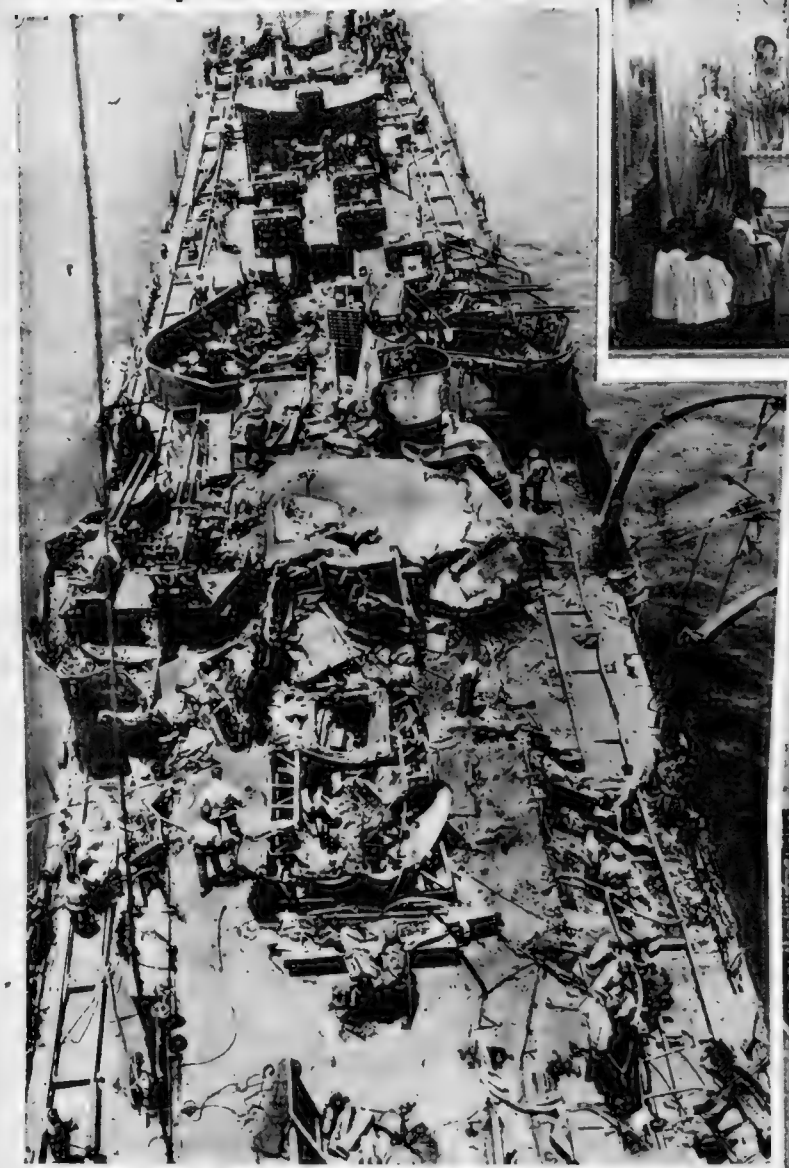
'A Ship That Can't Be Licked'



Home for Repair—Victim of 10 Jap suicide plane assaults in a 50-minute action off Okinawa last May, the minelayer USS Aaron Ward not only stayed afloat under the terrific attack, but made the 12,000-mile journey home to the Brooklyn Navy Yard under her own power for repair. In token of the gallant fight put up by her men, Admiral Nimitz described her as "a ship that can't be licked." International News Photo

Britons Sail—A group of English children, who were evacuated to this country five years ago when the Nazis began the London blitz, wave good-by to their adopted country as they prepare to sail from New York for their native homes. The majority of the 69 youngsters who set sail are determined to return to the U. S. some day.

JUSTICE

LT. COL. JOHN J. BENNETT, former member of Gen. Eisenhower's staff in London, has called upon all employers to take the initiative in seeking out veterans for employment rather than to place the burden of finding jobs on discharged servicemen.

Recently Col. Bennett said:

"A man returning from the war should not find it necessary to walk the streets looking for work.

"One of the most important problems facing veterans is employment and every possible effort should be made to see that these veterans, who have sacrificed so much for their country, have a fair chance for a job and adjustment to civil life."

Every believer in justice knows that the Colonel is right.

Our country with its glorious institutions, including free private enterprise, has emerged safely from the worst war the world has known because—and only because—the best of its sons were willing and able to meet and defeat the enemy.

Thanks to these heroic lads we live.

Thanks to these heroic lads all we cherish survives.

We would sink to the level of the barbarians whom we have overwhelmed if we refused these deserving men the work and wages they expect.

GEN. WAINWRIGHT

THE FINDING of many American prisoners of the Japanese alive and well, including Lt. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, who commanded the tragic defense of Bataan and Corregidor, and Lt. Gen. James Devereux of the heroic Wake Island Marine garrison, is an event for which the American people have never ceased to pray, but for which they hardly dared to hope.

There have never been any doubts in the minds of the American people about their ultimate victory in the Pacific war.

But there have always been grave and despairing doubts about the survival of our prisoners in the hands of the Japanese.

The little news we had about them during the war was always bad news.

Accordingly, the condition of prisoners in the more remote prison camps of Manchuria and the Japanese home islands was something the American people could only think about with anxiety and fear.

But apparently, in Manchuria at least, the Japanese captors behaved more like human beings and less like jungle creatures.

The prisoners found with General Wainwright and General Devereux were not wasted away to skin and bones as were the luckless inmates of Cabanatuan, Santa Tomas and Los Banos.

And for that the American people are deeply and humbly grateful—not to the Japanese, but to the Divine Providence which interceded for them.

PARKING SPACE

BOSTON'S campaign against illegal parking in the downtown area has netted more than two thousand offenders in two days.

And Deputy Police Superintendent James J. Hinchey says the relentless drive will continue as long as traffic regulations are disobeyed.

A law enforcement effort of this nature is hardly calculated to attract persons from other cities and towns to our stores and business establishments.

It might well be interpreted as a sound argument for staying at home.

Infinitely better would be an attempt on the part of the city and State to provide free or low-cost parking facilities for all persons who must make frequent trips to Boston.

The long-neglected and more or less useless Common could be the site for a large underground garage.

It would provide money for modern landscaping and perhaps a proper memorial to the men who fought and won this war.

O sad are they who know not love,
But, far from passion's tears and smiles,
Drift down a moonless sea, and

The silver coast of fairy isles.
And sadder they whose longing lips
Kiss empty air, and never touch
The dear warm mouth of those they love,
Waiting, wasting, suffering much. —BROWNE.

IN BERLIN some of the cabarets are again going full blast. The most popular song among the German patrons of these night spots is one titled "Berlin Will Rise Again" . . . Note it stated $2 bills are widely circulated in Boston. That's something new. The only place I have seen an unusual number of $2 bills in recent years is in Baltimore. Incidentally, San Francisco is about the only place you ever get a silver dollar in change.

PLEASE NOTE: Understand a Chicagoan has invented a machine that will instantaneously dry a woman's hair after a beauty shop operator has put it up in curls. My girl friend told me this. She said a woman from Chicago told her. "If this is true," said my girl friend, "it can be added to the list of boons to womankind."

I haven't been to Pittsfield since I stopped there overnight with the Wesleyan University football team on the way to play Williams at Williamstown. In that game our side put the ball over the Williams line three times and on each occasion it was brought back because of a penalty. The game ended in a scoreless tie.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q. What film star do you say has the most beautiful speaking voice? A. Have never given this much thought. Joan Fontaine has an unusually attractive voice. Ingrid Bergman's voice is of the highly desirable "gentle and low" quality. Greer Garson's voice has its points.

Q. Remember when people went in for recitations at parties? You know, such as "Gunga Din" and "The Shooting of Dan McGrew?" A. Indeed I do. Along about one in the morning I often felt like reciting myself in those days. My favorite was "Boots." I could do all right with "Danny Deever," too.

SHORTCAKE: A Baltimorean with a long memory wants to know if I "am as wrong as ever as to what old-fashioned strawberry shortcake is." About three years ago I said the right kind of strawberry shortcake is made of three layers of cake, each about the size of a small pie, between which are placed plenty of strawberries. Toss a pitcher of cream on this, I said, and you have the real McCoy in strawberry shortcake. That is still my story. (Ed. note: And still 100 per cent wrong.)

PESSIMIST: In the 18 months following World War I prices rose 40 per cent and then collapsed. In the five years following 1920 nearly 106,000 business firms in the United States failed and unemployment increased by six million. Such are the sombre facts presented by a gloomy contemporary who thinks it is going to happen again. I don't agree with this pessimistic old boy. In fact, I will wager him one box of stogies that the five years after 1946 in the United States will be highly prosperous ones for the majority of Americans. I have my reasons for so thinking.

CRITIC: Now, Martha Tilton, screen actress, on her return from Europe, sharply criticized the manner in which things are being conducted over there. Martha's criticism had to do with the matter of "fraternization." She seems almost as angry about the way the U. S. Army is now being handled in Europe as Frank Sinatra was.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24—Twice in the course of Ernest Bevin's general statement of the foreign policy of the new British Labor government he compared Hitlerism with Stalinism; though in more delicate terms, and found them equal.

Westbrook Pegler

"One thing we must aim at resolutely and that is to prevent the substitution of one form of totalitarianism for another," he said early in the address. And later, discussing Bulagria, Rumania and Hungary, he said: "The impression we get from recent developments is that one kind of totalitarianism is being replaced by another."

For years, in the United States, this has been the opinion of those Americans who resisted the Communist influence in our politics and even in the national government under Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The similarity is apparent to every honest mind, yet from 1933 onward and more aggressively since 1941 when Hitler attacked Russia, our Communists and those who had lost confidence in American capitalism during the long panic attacked the faith of Americans in their form of government with false representations.

WE WERE ASKED to be friendly to the Russian people and to give them understanding even to the extent of ignoring the truth and adopting a system from which they were unable to budge, even though they had been sufficiently enlightened to want it.

The Russians have never had any experience under freedom and, to them, the dictatorship of a small group of strong men ruling by force and terror, but benignly as long as they obey, probably does represent complete liberty.

Friendship for the Russian people of a sentimental kind based on goodwill and generosity rather than acquaintance, which has been lacking, did not require us to adopt any phase of their totalitarian system.

For reciprocity, had that been so, we might as well have required them to adopt free elections under the two-party system, capitalism and freedom of religion and the press.

The Americans, however, made no such conditions. We were tolerant enough to grant them the right to live on under a dictatorship or overthrow it if they could and that was their desire.

Always, however, propaganda persisted that whoever in the United States opposed Communism, exposed the penetration of Communists and their sympathizers in the Roosevelt party and the Roosevelt government and hammered away at the fundamental likeness of the German and Russian systems was a Nazi or a Fascist and an enemy of labor and progress.

BEVIN REFERRED to this, also, when he said: "There is a tendency to extend those names to groups of people and parties who are neither Nazi nor Fascist but who simply want to be represented, and are disliked by the majority parties who see the possibility of winning power and would like to deny those parties the opportunity to express their views in the election."

He was speaking of conditions at home but he might have been referring to the campaign repartee of the CIO and some elements of the American Federation of Labor in our own election of last fall.

In that contest in some areas of New York a citizen wearing a Dewey campaign button could expect to be heckled if not attacked in the streets.

There was an indication of that version of "democracy," a "very much overworked word," as Bevin said, which so many political unioneers of the CIO were fighting to impose on the native American.

ONE TRAGEDY of the last election was not a matter of personalities, but the fact that the American people, under the spell of the most powerful propaganda ever exerted in this country and in fear of losing the war by changing Presidents, indicated to the peoples of Europe that they, too, had lost faith in the capitalism which had made their country the greatest nation and our living standard the highest.

The Europeans looked to our verdict and, not knowing how it was wrought, believed that we had deliberately "gone left" toward Communism.

The truth is that the majority who elected Roosevelt had been told that Communism was not a totalitarian form but "democracy" and believed it and were worried by a subtle fear that we must accept diluted Communism here or fight the real thing in a war.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 24—The exciting story of penicillin was bound to come to the screen, and, sure enough, here it is! The book, "Yellow Magic", by J. D. Ratcliff, has been bought by Cartoon Producer George Pal and Samson Diamond, a New York publisher, for an independent film in Technicolor.

Katina Paxinou

They're shooting the works on the most ambitious venture Pal has ever undertaken and they will show step by step the discovery and development of the wonder drug.

What particularly interests me is that Sir Alexander Fleming, discoverer of penicillin, has already given his permission to be characterized in the film by a top Hollywood actor. But he wants to keep an eye on the development of the movie, working from start to finish as the technical collaborator.

ONE OF the nicest men I have ever met, and one of the sweetest and most uncomplaining, is Alexis Minotis. In Greece he was a top stage actor before the war. He is married to Mme. Katina Paxinou, but while she has always been able to get all sorts of jobs, someway Minotis' talent was never appreciated. So I am happy to say, at long last, he gets an excellent role in "Captain from Castile," the very exciting novel by Samuel Shellabarger. Twentieth Century-Fox is making this picture and it already has a big ready-made audience.

LANA TURNER wasn't seriously ill when she was rushed to the hospital. She was anemic and tired out, and that anemia can make you feel more exhausted than anything else. M-G-M is seeing to it that their pet and pride is getting plenty of rest, because they have plans for her. Just a few days ago Josephine Pinckney's new novel, "Three O'clock Dinner," was bought for her for the pleasant little sum of $175,000.

ALL THE TIME Teresa Wright was making "Trouble With Women" at Paramount there was chatter that she wasn't happy playing in an out-and-out, fast-moving comedy and that some of her scenes were reshot and reshot at her own request. She won't have to worry about her second Paramount picture with Ray Milland, "Take This Woman," because it is an emotional drama. When it comes to bringing on the tears, Teresa is "Wright" at home—if you'll pardon the pun. She goes back to her boss, Sam Goldwyn, for "The Bishop's Wife" when she finishes her stint at Paramount.

THE ALAN LADD battle with Paramount was at the sizzling point today as both sides were telling their story. I never take sides in these studio squabbles but here are both claims. Para says Alan's demands were so exorbitant they couldn't meet them. Alan claims it wasn't money alone that caused him to refuse to make a picture. He wasn't well and needed a rest. He was getting, according to the Ladd side, $1500 a week and not $200,000 a year as reported. The studio, on the other side, says it permitted him, since he has been out of the Army, to keep all his radio money.

A LINE OR TWO: Bob Walker's taking a lot of ribbing about his being absent-minded and staying away two days in the midst of a picture. Anyway, he caused a lot of excitement. We're all glad for Susie.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Jeanne Crain has accepted Lt. Henry King, Jr.'s, invitation to the premiere of "Capt. Eddie." He is back after being in a hospital in Germany and in a concentration camp. The stories he tells should be put in a book. Of course, Cleatus Caldwell and Bob Hutton dated to go together, and Buff Cobb Chapman, who always does the expected, promised to go with Bill Eythe; Paulette Goddard and Buzz Meredith have joined the colony of film folk who have bought beach property below Malibu; Lynn Bari is home from the hospital. She tells her friends she wants to have another baby as soon as possible.

CANTINFLAS, the Mexican comedian, is booked for personal appearances starting September 14. Wonder if he's learned to speak English? The Navy has plans to put Lt. Henry Fonda in a Navy show in Washington. I wouldn't be surprised if he gets his discharge soon. Com. Dick Barthelmess will be out in about ten days; hear the John Irelands have decided it's no use. He's June Haver's leading man in "Enchanted Voyage;" The Red Cross gives paeans of praise to Mrs. Robert Leonard for financing a 16MM. film showing the rescue of the wounded and work on hospital ships; Turhan Bey spent all the time he was in town on leave at Lana Turner's bedside at the hospital; the Cornel Wildes celebrated their eighth wedding anniversary—and it really was a celebration; Yvonne de Carlo and Capt. Chick Weir have been doing the night spots.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24—Superstition runs rampant throughout the realm of Federal bureaucracy. And probably the most prevalent superstition is that it's bad luck to assume you have been promoted to a higher job until the promotion is officially confirmed.

Nevertheless, a certain bureaucrat flew in the face of this bugaboo—and is now paying for it with the reddest kisser in town. The story is this:

For longer than he probably cares to remember, Abner H. Ferguson was Federal Housing Commissioner. He served well and ably, but you know how it is after you have been too long in Washington taking it on the chin? Anyway, he quit.

Under him as deputy administrator was Earl S. Draper. When Mr. Ferguson announced resignation, Mr. Draper assumed he would get the top job.

He assumed it so implicitly that the minute Mr. Ferguson departed he began moving all his belongings into the latter's office. He moved his books, records, pictures, whatnots, and even his secretary.

Other employes of the FHA watched the procedure in awe. In fact, one young lady, her eyes wide and mouth partically agape, approached him timidly and said:

"Gosh, I guess you're not superstitious, are you Mr. Draper?"

Mr. Draper laughed condescendingly and went on moving. He was nicely ensconced in the administrator's sanctum, lolling importantly in the big chair before the imposing desk, when word came from the White House.

The word was that Raymond M. Foley, ex-newspaperman of Pontiac, Mich., had been appointed Federal Housing Administrator—and that the appointment had been confirmed by the Senate!

FOLEY, incidentally, has had plenty of experience in the housing game. He quit newspaper work at the behest of the Governor of Michigan to set up public relations offices in the State government, and in 1934 became State director of FHA.

P. S. He now occupies Mr. Ferguson's old office, Mr. Draper having moved out.

I POSITIVELY would not do this for anyone but you folks, but I have just digested three full pages of small type in the Federal Register for your benefit. Therein are listed all the new things that have been exempted from price control.

It is a wonderful list. Inasmuch as I am sure you will wish to run out and buy all these things at any price demanded I am listing some of the articles.

Near the top are comforter grippers. You know how it has been with nothing to grip a comforter? Then hand fans, shaving equipment made of precious metals, and wigs and toupees.

No wig ceiling! Hip, hooray!

ALSO EXEMPTED are glass ice balls for chilling without diluting food and beverages, hand-painted pictures, and incense burners, presumably so you can smell punk.

Then self-feeding baby bottles (You lazy little mohers!), wood-carved figures and animals, dog and cat beds, dinner bells and chimes, aluminum horseshoes, sleigh bells and novelty masks, not including the one worn by Ickes.

Then aquatic sporting goods other than apparel and shoes. But, after all, who wants to wear shoes while aquaticking?

THERE ARE three items that baffle me—fishing tackle except rods and reels, football equipment except apparel, shoes, helmets, pads and footballs, and baseball equipment except balls, mitts, gloves, bats, apparel and shoes. Of course, you could play a fair game of baseball without a rod and reel but the other expectations would seem to hamper one somewhat.

THERE IS one item, however, that really brings gladness back into my life. There is no longer any price control over "game calls, bird and game."

Anybody like to call an uncontrolled bird?

THERE WAS a piece in the papers the other day that has caused me considerable perturbation. It was a warning by Prof. E. W. Glazener, of Maryland University's experiment station, against eating chickens which have been fattened on feminine hormone drugs.

Prof. Glazener said certain veterinarians have been using these hormone drugs for experimenting on fattening fowls.

"It can be dangerous," he said. "It might cause men to assume feminine characteristics for a short time."

Boston After Dark

WASHINGTON HOOP-LA (EXCLUSIVE): A very peevish and pensive little Chinese lady is counting the days until her return to her homeland . . . She is Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the Chinese "nationalist" chieftain and the man the United States and Great Britain (and possibly France) will continue to honor as boss of the Chinese nation . . . Mme. Chiang was so eager to be a resident guest of the White House while DeGaulle was being honored that the Chinese ambassador devoted hours and hours in an effort to have an invitation extended her . . . But the best that could be offered her was a suite in Blair House, the White House "annex" reserved for visiting exalted dignitaries. The Madame accepted the verdict, and made plans forthwith to return to her home and (presumably) husband . . . She will leave within three weeks.

CAPITOL NEWSPAPERMEN are vexed at the result of a private interview granted by the President to a New York newspaperman — an episode which turned out so badly that the White House future policy probably will be "no individual interviews" . . . This Gotham scribe—a representative of a paper of so-called "liberal" leanings—brought all possible pressure to bear, and his publisher and editors added their mites, to secure the privilege of enjoying an "informal" chat with Mr. Truman.

THE REPORTER, evidently, was treated with considerable cordiality and trust . . . The President went the limit to be gracious . . . But a matter of some small concern to The Man From Missouri is his eyesight, which admittedly is not too strong . . . President Truman wears eyeglasses throughout his waking hours, except for a moment or two in the day when he relaxes . . . He even wears his powerful optical aids when he swims in the White House pool.

IT WAS TAKEN for granted that the New York reporter would make no alarming feature of the President's weak sight . . . It is a fact known to all accredited correspondents, and in consideration of the Top Man's feelings, they have given the subject little, if any, attention . . . The New York reporter went to great lengths, in a story interpreted in the White House as ill-mannered, surly and obviously hostile, to "play up" the President's eyes far beyond the news-value of the subject.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Betty Hutton's health is of grave concern to her studio. She is the reigning Queen of that "lot" . . . Betty's great friend and chief sponsor in her meteoric movie career has been B. G. "Buddy" De Sylva, who suffered a serious physical collapse a few months ago . . . If you have a watch which needs repair, be patient. One of our best jewelers will fix it, but won't give a time for delivery. There are nearly 900 watches ahead of ours.

rance Is Last Hope o Halt Communism

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND
Dean of American Foreign Correspondents
Written Expressly for the Hearst Newspapers

MADRID, Aug. 24—All Europe with the exception of ain, Portugal and Eire is stretching out its hands to merica for help. The void is so great that we could drop everything we possess and not able to fill Europe's needs.

Out of the feverish miasma of te spiritual and material wreckge—political and economic chaos ad the threats of a winter of cold ad hunger—the outline of the vo blocs in leftist Europe is beoming clearer with every pasng day.

One bloc is that of the totalitrian communists of Soviet Russia in the east.

The other is that of the shattered western democracy which, although in fragments, shows me signs of renewing its struggle for survival.

The speech of British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, disclosing Britain's foreign policy under the Socialist Labor Government, has aroused renewed hope in democratic circles.

Its admirable frankness and directness in stigmatizing Communist Hungary, Roumania and Bulgaria, which were organized under Moscow's direction and control, as not democratic and not representative of their people has gone far in Europe to offset the first impetus given to Communism-Socialisim by the British Socialst victory at the recent elections.

France is faced with the choice of placing herself politically and economically in one or the other bloc.

France must choose between the totalitarinan Communist eastern bloc of Soviet Russia, with which she allied herself in unnecessary and unwise haste, or she must place herself in the political and economic bloc of western democracy, headed by America.

This should be made clear to Gen. Charles De Gaulle while he is in Washington.

On France's choice largely depends whether or not there will be a western bloc of nations resolved to stem the totalitarian Communism of Soviet Russia.

Because of their strategical and geographical position and economic importance, Spain and Portugal are very esential states in such a bloc.

General De Gaulle cannot go politically with totalitarian, Communist undemocratic Soviet Russia and expect democratic America to build up the wrecked economy of France for the benefit of Communism, the ultimate aim of which is to destroy the political and economic system of our America.

Foreign Secretary Bevin's common sense speech has confirmed the conviction in Moscow that conflict, in one form or the other, between Communism and democracy must come one day.

An Outline of Policies:

IN taking over the COLD SPRING BREWING COMPANY, my associates and I are aware of the important part our organization can play in the postwar life of the areas which we serve.

We are succeeding to the operation of an old-established unit of the brewing industry. The many improvements we plan within it cannot be accomplished overnight. But we have a very definite blueprint for the future, and are confident that the development of our ideas and ideals will be a matter of genuine satisfaction and pride to all of you who have the interests of the community at heart.

It is our aim to manufacture at the Cold Spring Brewery, products which will equal the finest now on the market . . . to make this brewery one of the best and busiest in Massachusetts. Our growth and development will create increasing opportunities for permanent employment, at good wages and under a new high standard of working conditions.

We march into the future with the knowledge that the success of an industry and its products is dependent upon cooperation between management and the men whose labor helps create those products. We believe that industry's responsibility to an employee does not cease when the worker washes up at the end of the day.

It is, rather, our firm conviction that industry should be the means through which security and happiness are brought into the home of the American working man.

At the earliest possible time we shall inaugurate an insurance program for our employees with benefits covering death, accident, illness, and loss of wages. We shall provide the services of a competent physician for our employees and their dependents without cost to them.

In brief, we shall exert every effort to make the name COLD SPRING BREWING COMPANY synonymous with quality products, and a happy, contented family of workers.

Follow M'Arthur On Victory Trail

And now it can be told—the inside story of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's spectacular triumph over the Japs; of his step-by-step military comeback despite overwhelming odds, from the dismal days of Bataan to the glorious day of final victory in the Pacific war.

Lee Van Atta, veteran INS war correspondent in the Pacific who has been attached to Gen. MacArthur's command longer than any other correspondent, kept elaborate diary notes on how MacArthur outwitted the enemy at every turn and how he helped to drive the Japs to their final doom.

From those firsthand notes, he has written the dramatic inside story of Gen. MacArthur's amazing military exploits from Bataan to the Jap surrender.

This exciting series of articles by the war correspondent who has been in closest personal touch with the sequence of events which Gen. MacArthur shaped will begin next Sunday in the Boston Sunday Advertiser and continue in the Boston Daily Record.

Lee Van Atta is in an ideal position to tell this story as a personal, human drama. He has been [illegible] MacArthur's famous Fifth Air Force after having been cited for 111 combat missions with it.

The story of MacArthur's dauntless dives from Australia through New Guinea and sundry islands back to the Philippines and final victory over the Japs is an epic of personal courage and brilliant generalship.

When MacArthur lacked planes and war materiel, he used his wits and made the Jap commanders dizzy with his ingenious military strategy.

For the first real story of how the remarkable General turned the tables on the Japs to become the key figure in their surrender, be sure to read Lee Van Atta's thrilling series beginning in next Sunday's Advertiser.

RAPIDLY the lid which has held back production of civilian goods is being lifted. The rate of "cutbacks" in government orders is now accelerating, and the time is now here for New England businessmen to place themselves in the strongest position to meet a return to a competitive peacetime economy.

At such a time there is no surer protection for any business than ready access to a reliable source of credit.

New methods of furnishing money used by the SHAWMUT BANK in recent years have helped New England business to establish a distinct record of war production. This bank stands ready and willing to assist sound New England business . . . small or large . . . by furnishing money for such purposes as shown in the checklist above.

use of the atomic bomb "shocked" and "shamed" the world. In an article appearing in the Diocesan Gazette, the archbishop said:

"Not only Christian conscience but every conscience is afraid and shamed.

"It can be argued that its use in fact saved more human lives than it dreadfully destroyed by bringing the war to a sudden end.

"But, there are arguments on the other side. First, use of the weapon has given Japan an excuse for saying she was not really defeated, and second, history shows that mankind in accommodating its conscience to more deadly and inhuman forms of war has taken another long step toward the abyss."

Scientist Predicted A-Bomb Ray Peril

Two days after the first atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima, Dr. Harold Jacobson, scientist who worked on development of the bomb, wrote an exclusive article for International News Service in which he:

Predicted radio activity caused by the bomb would last for some 70 years—thus making any person visiting the infested area subject to a lingering death

Declared irradiation caused by the bomb would kill off the red corpuscles in the blood stream—thus causing death to the apparently healthy weeks later.

At the request of the War Department, which opposed Dr. Jacobson's findings, the scientist later issued a formal statement declaring his story was based solely on his own opinion and not on confidential information.

Today's Tokyo radio confirms the main premises of Dr. Jacobson's story.

3 of YD Help Return Hand Of St. Stephen to Hungary

SALZBURG, Aug. 24 (AP) — The hand of St. Stephen, one of the most prized relics in Hungarian history, reached Budapest last Monday in time for the annual St. Stephen's Day celebration, Capt. Ralph Diefenbach, Catholic chaplain of the Second U. S. Army Corps, reported today on his return from [illegible].

Hungarians enthusiastically acclaimed American soldiers for returning the relic, which had been in Austria for safekeeping, said Fr. Diefenbach, who was entrusted to return it after the Army gave permission.

Absence of the withered hand of St. Stephen, ancient cannonized monarch, would have marred the St. Stephen's festival.

Fr. Diefenbach was accompanied by three men of the U. S. 26th Division: Cpl. Michael Christiano, 6 Woodland ave., Chelsea; PFC Francis Duffy, Philadelphia, and PFC Garland Eavey, Hopewell, Va.

Companion Fragrance for Boy and Girl

Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

"A SLICK chick, on a chain with a Solid Jackson" . . . no, it's not Russian, nor even Esperanto . . . but the teen-age way of saying that a pretty girl is going steady with a handsome fellow! And if you didn't know what it meant . . . you're dated!

While lots of nonsense of the swooning-over-Sinatra and Van Johnson type emanates from this age group . . . they do offer some refreshing slants on life that are pretty appealing even to us "older girls" (anyone over 20). One of which is their frankly romantic, mutual admiration of each other's way of dressing, living, and even using matching colognes.

And, don't tell us that men pooh pooh sweet-smelling fragrances. If they did, they would not play a hide and seek game of searching for the most odorous after-shaving lotions as most of them do. We have a sneaking suspicion that the war has changed the masculine viewpoint of fragrances.

The stalwarts have been so much a part of muck and mire that their wholesale return to civilian life will see a Herculean acceptance of the most delicate fragrance . . . in sort of a challenging embrace of things clean and fresh and fastidious . . . and without being dandies. We anticipate that men's toiletries departments will spring up like mushrooms all over the country to serve the masculine retrieving of the bandbox crispness.

A noted perfumer has sympathized with this idea to the extent of doing one of his favorite fragrances in two companion versions . . . one for Her and one for Him, a masculinized version, to be sure . . . so that even a six footer can use it with no recriminations. It's clean and crisp and tangy . . . reminding you of autumn bonfires, of clear, cool September days . . . and when the air, the sunlight and life itself seems good, good, good! As it will to the thousands returning to normal living once again.

Not only is this fragrance exactly right in character for tweeds . . . but it is also composed of special essential oils that have a perfect affinity for wool . . . so that it clings like a burr without losing any of its original freshness. The masculine version is presented in a flacon topped in saddle sewn leather.

For the name of this companion fragrance for Her and Him, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FOR TWO "on a chain" . . . going steady in teen-age talk . . . a tangy fragrance that comes in cologne for men as well . . . and no sissy stuff either . . . is a winner. It is a cologne extraordinaire for women . . . hauntingly reminiscent of autumn bonfires . . . of clear, cool September days . . . and those delightful tweeds and wools we'll soon be donning for comfortable smartness.

IT'S THIS type of dress that Claire McCardell's fame and the American look are made of. Two-piece in gray, white and checked zephyr knit . . . it has the designer's celebrated deep armhole and man's shirt sleeve shoulder. The skirt expresses a new deep fold fullness . . . and hip line interest of pockets at the far sides . . . high convertible neckline and silver buttons. Casual, but smart.—R. M.

Ideal for Lunch or Supper

By MARTHA LEE

IF YOU'RE LOOKING for a main dish that's unusual, and a bit on the fancy side, you'll want to try this Fresh Peach and Spiced Ham Supper Dish. Although it's called a supper dish, you may decide it's just the thing to serve your women friends at a luncheon party. It would also be delicious to serve at a "brunch," one of those late morning meals that call for a rather special menu.

On occasion you've undoubtedly served whole spiced peaches as a relish with meat. Probably there are other meat and fruit combinations that are very familiar—such as ham and pineapple, pork and applesauce or apple rings, veal and apricots, ham and cranberries, and so on.

The interesting points about this particular dish are that fresh peaches are used. They're cooked in the same dish with the meat, and both are covered with a batter so it's something on the order of an upside-down cake.

What's more, there's corn to give contrast in texture and make the dish even more "substantial." It is almost a meal in itself. The meat used is spiced ham, which may either come from a can or be one of the ready-to-serve meats from your grocer's counter. Regular smoked ham could also be used, but be sure to have it sliced thin, and brown it slowly and thoroughly before putting it into the casserole.

Fresh Peach and Spiced Ham Supper Dish

FRESH PEACH AND SPICED HAM SUPPER DISH

3 slices spiced ham (cut ¾ inch thick)
1½ tbsp. drippings or shortening
1 cup flour
1 tsp. baking powder
3 fresh peaches, sliced
2 cups cooked or canned corn
1 egg, beaten
¾ cup milk or corn liquid

Cut slices of meat in half, brown on both sides in fat. Place in oiled casserole. Sift dry ingredients together. Arrange slices of peaches between slices of meat in bottom of casserole. Dice remaining peaches and add with milk to dry ingredients. Pour over meat and sliced peaches and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 35 minutes.

There are many delicious "combination dishes" which may be made with the convenient, tasty, ready-to-serve meats and canned luncheon meats.

To illustrate, try using bologna in your favorite spaghetti recipe or on top of baked beans. Vienna style sausages or frankfurters go well in Chinese dishes.

BUTTERSCOTCH PIE

2 cups milk 1½ cups brown sugar, firmly packed
1-3 cup flour ½ tsp. salt
2 egg yolks or 1 whole egg, slightly beaten
1 tbsp. butter or margarine
½ cup whipped cream, or whipped evaporated milk
1 baked pastry shell

Scald milk in double boiler until milk is foamy. Mix sugar, flour, and salt thoroughly and stir into scalded milk. Continue stirring over hot water until mixture thickens. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Stir a little of the hot mixture into slightly beaten egg yolks, return to double boiler, and cook 1 minute longer. Add butter and beat until well blended. Cool slightly, pour into baked pastry shell, and chill. Just before serving, cover with unsweetened whipped cream. Makes one 9-inch pie.

White Seal in New Styles for Fall

By BETTINA BEDWELL

SEAL FUR is the latest of the fashion furs to have its hair turn white overnight, as it were. We were astounded when mink turned snowy, and now seal has gone and done it.

This is natural whiteness, mind you not done with tricks. White seal coats are around, being introduced by the famous fur designer Maximilian. The seal comes from around Newfoundland I'm told and is what is known to professionals as "pin seal." It has a sort of opalescent sheen to it, more oyster than pure white, and doesn't look in texture a bit like Hudson or Alaska seal. The hairs are stiffer.

A Maximilian coat in this rich fur is sketched. It has rounded shoulders, done with bands dropped over them, and the sleeves are loose. There is a belt at the fitted waistline, and the hat is a halo shape also made of white seal

Sons' Gratitude Her Reward

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: When I read your column, I can compare my life to some of those you mention. For 19 years I've been married to the wrong man. I've never known love. There are those we call peacemakers, but if they could see what goes on in the homes where they try to make peace, they might quit their roles. I've always had a hard time, trying to raise my four sons, taking care of his people, and mine as well. Still I never get one "thank you." Funny, isn't it?

There are husbands like these who are crazy about other women and think more of them than they do of their own wives.

UNHAPPY WIFE.

No, I don't think there's anything funny about the situation you describe. It's tragic to my way of thinking, and I get hundreds of letters from women in the same boat. The recompense often comes from the children, and we'll hope that those four boys who have seen you give up so much, to make their home comfortable, and do for their father's people as well as your own, will appreciate what a fine mother they have.

Give Garden Attention Now To Reap Good Fall Harvest

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head, Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Director of the Boston Record-American-Sunday Advertiser Demonstration Garden on Boston Common.

There is a natural tendency as the season advances and the novelty of gardening wears off to relax and give up for the year. Recently, in a check of victory gardens, I noticed that many had not been given much attention for several days.

The weak spot in our American home garden program is the failure of gardeners to keep the land producing during late summer and fall. While our growing season is limited, we should take advantage of at least six months of garden weather.

Recently a number of gardeners have asked if it would be practical to take manure and stack it for next year's garden. Animal manures are always valuable in maintaining soil fertility but are not always available in the spring. On the other hand a manure pile is not practical to have in a small lot, unless properly handled, as it breeds flies. If you have room and can get manure now I would suggest that you compost it, or stack it in the far end of the lot and cover with a light layer of loam. You might use some in rebuilding the compost pile. Manure composted and stacked in a rectangular pile will retain much of its value until spring, and the heating may kill some of the weed seeds.

If you have space left in the garden, it will pay to sow in a row of late fall turnips. This cool weather crop if planted now will grow fast and produce the best quality. Most growers make the mistake of planting it too early, with the result that it becomes overgrown, coarse and strong flavored. The best variety to plant now is the purple top globe. Sow in drills about 15 inches apart. Thin to stand three inches between plants and cultivate often when young to keep them growing. If aphids attack plants when young dust with rotenone.

Cruiser Rochester Launching Tuesday

Second to be named for the "Flower City" of New York State, the 13,000-ton cruiser Rochester will be launched at 3:30 p. m. next Tuesday at the Quincy yard of the Bethlehem Steel Co., it was announced yesterday by the Navy. The first "Rochester," only half the size of the new one, was decommissioned in 1933.

President Would Abolish War Time

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) —President Truman will recommend to Congress when it reconvenes Sept. 5 that War Time be abolished. An act of Congress is necessary to restore the clocks to the one hour earlier time prevalent before the war.

The President told his news conference that the matter of regulating time should be given back to the states.

Good Stage, Film Fare at Boston

By MARY X. SULLIVAN

With a revival program of two good films on the screen and a well-rounded vaudeville bill on the stage, the RKO-Boston is giving the cash customers more than their money's worth this week.

Bing Crosby's oldie, "This Side of Heaven," holds up very well. Claudette Colbert, who has turned to comedy in recent days, is emoting seriously in "Imitation of Life."

On the stage, Joey Adams of Leon and Eddie's renown, keeps the show moving at a merry pace. He has a quick wit and an agreeable patter and in every way is far above the average master of ceremonies.

Rose Marie, the former baby star now a big girl, has grown very glamorous in the past year. Streamlined and chicly attractive, she scored with the audience in her throaty rendition of "My Mama Says No," "Jimmie Durante" and in Italian, "Oh, Ma, Ma."

Mark Plant is a pleasant relief from anemic crooners (no reflection on Frankie). He is a big fellow, recently discharged from the Navy, with a really excellent voice. He sang "If I Love You" from "Carousel" and did an amusing "Sonny Boy" routine with the help of Joey Adams.

BING CROSBY in "This Side of Heaven," now at the Keith Boston.

Burlesque Back On Globe Stage

Starting today, the Globe will resume its burlesque show policy, opening with an array of the best talent available. The opening bill has a company of 60 leading burlesque artists, headed by a top trio of comedians, Benny "Wop" Moore, Artie Lloyd and Jimmy Pinto. The pin-up girls include Mickey Jones, Fay Neal, Sherri and Peggy Bond. Conny Ryan is straight man.

On the screen is "No Time for Love," with Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray, and "Navy Way." There is a midnight show every Sunday night, starting at 12.01.

TRIBUTARY'S FIRST PLAY

The Tributary Theater will open their season on Sept. 26 with James Barrie's "What Every Woman Knows," instead of Shaw's "St. Joan," originally scheduled for that date. "St. Joan" will be done later in the season.

The Case of the Four Delinquent Daddies

By AUSTEN LAKE

SO THE WAR'S OVER, HUH? Not so! The war goes on for thousands of servicemen's families who live below poverty's belt and subsist on squalor, carrot broth, the heel of a loaf and hope! No day passes but this corner receives anguished screams from service wives, all with kids, who have the wolf in their vestibules. This while we, the bountiful nation with a heart as large as a Hubbard squash, send millions in relief goods abroad through UNRRA!

Austen Lake

What is it that makes our national ears so sensitive to foreign distress, yet so deaf to our own? Can it be that the pained cries of our people are pitched so shrill as to be beyond sonic hearing?

Some of the service daddies are being held for further service. Some are incarcerated in Army and Navy sneezies for going AWOL to help their kith! Not drunks and chiselers of which the services have their quotas! I've screened out appeals from the moochers!

So today's sample docket entails four cases, two sailors and two soldiers who are under sentence of one to three years, with BCD's, for overstaying legal leaves due to chronic illness in their families. The four total 16 children and three wives!

Win the War, Lose the Children

NEVER MIND FEELING SORROW for the dumb, "delinquent" dads, even though their errancy was on the side of mercy! But if their kids grow up sidewise, mentally warped and psychologically ill that becomes a civic and national problem. What does it matter that we win the war if we lose the children? Bear in mind that for the few such problems I receive there are thousands I don't!

I've investigated these four cases and have supporting affidavits from their parish clergy and clinic doctors. These don't condone the husband's AWOL but they realize that a man's first concern, even beyond devotion to duty, is for his kids. Well what were they fighting for? Pacific air bases? Arabian oil concessions? Trade routes? No! They fought for the little lid of sky and patch of ground called home and the people they left there. Is that corn syrup?

To save the families embarrassment I omit names and identifying data. I have forwarded them to our Congressmen for possible action.

Case No. 1—Sailor, 34 years old, wife and four kids under 11 years. Inducted during pregnancy of wife who has chronic anemia. (Ed.—O. K., let's admit the guy is connubially dumb. But the Army doesn't draft men for their continence or celibacy). Overstayed leave at time of child's birth. Overstayed again when another kid had meningitis. Did it again when found wife bedridden without funds and help.

Doctor's statement: "Wife chronic invalid." Priest's testimony: "Man of good character. Mercy recommended." Court's verdict: "One year hard labor. Bad conduct discharge. Forfeiture of pay and allotments."

Case No. 2—Sailor, 29. 20 months' service, six children under 13. Excerpts from court transcript reads: "I got a 10-day leave and found my wife hadn't had my allotments for two months. There was almost nothing to eat. She was flat with a leaky kidney and needed an operation. I borrowed $200 and stayed home while she was in the hospital and later when she came home. I notified my CO where I was and why. I stayed from June to February rather than put my kids in a charity institution and leave my wife alone."

Doctor's affidavit: "Woman requires long convalescence and release from anxiety." Priest's finding: "Man's reputation excellent. Non-alcoholic. No previous misdemeanors." Court's verdict: "Desertion in time of war. Two years. BCD. Forfeiture of allotments."

Whose Morale Is at Stake Now?

CASE NO. 3—SOLDIER, 31, three children under 9. Wife died while he was in service. Kids in care of aging mother. Second oldest child, 7, a spastic requiring special treatment and education. Soldier's elderly father sole source of income, plus allotments. Soldier overstayed two leaves and also went AWOL, total 63 days.

Doctor's finding: "Grandmother of children incurable arthritic. All children evidence bone malformations." Minister's finding: "Church and town relief agencies helping out. Man's reputation sound." Court's verdict: "Three years' hard labor with opportunity to rehabilitate self. Discontinuance of benefits and allotments."

Case No. 4—Soldier, 26, three children under 5, including twins, age 3. Wife partial invalid from injury to pelvis in fall down cellar stairs. Wife's sister, living with family at time of induction, since married, taking one child to live with her. One of twins is ill with eye affliction, threatening sight. Soldier AWOL three times, total of 51 days.

Priest's recommendation, "Wife threatened with tuberculosis of spine. Man is good husband and father." Court's verdict, "One year, with mitigation for good behavior. Allotments stopped."

The Army and Navy's logical query to these is, "Why didn't they apply for dependency discharges? That's what D. D.'s were framed for?" The two sailors and one soldier say they did just that and received no action. For whatever reason, no applications reached Washington. So then the Army and Navy says, "But we must maintain discipline. The morale of the service is at stake." But the combat end of war is over and the morale and morals of many underprivileged American families are also at stake. So what? So I am sending these cases and such others as are like them, to our Congressmen on the trust that they can salvage something from the wreckage while there is yet time. And time is fleeting!

40-Yr.-Old Mike Ryba Real Standout for Sox

By HERB FINNEGAN

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (En route to Boston), Aug. 24—When old No. 20 stalks out to the bull pen before the A's-Red Sox game at Fenway Park tomorrow, Andy Dazzi's "bull pen" bleacherites ought to rise en mas se and give him a royal salutation. Mike Ryba deserves it.

He's one of the few Red Sox to be commended for his work on the trip where the club won only eight of 27 games played.

Mike Ryba

Mike returns to Boston with a 5-3 season's record. He started the trip 2-3 and not long back he was 0-3. For a time Old Mike couldn't win a game.

The Sox were playing the Yanks on April 19, the day Joe Cronin broke his leg. Dreiserwerd was batted out. Old Mike took over and pitched valiantly. What happened? Culberson dropped a fly in center field and Mike lost a 4-3 decision.

Mike's second defeat came on Memorial Day. What happened? Ben Steiner dropped a fly and Mike was in the soup again. And it is easy to recall the day at Fenway Park when Bob Johnson muffed the fly that cost a game because Johnson rarely muffs one. And who was pitching when he muffed it? Sure enough, Old Mike.

That's the way he started the season. Three muffed flies, three losses. Mike was down but he wasn't out.

He did a couple of fine relief jobs in Washington at the start of the trip but neither won nor lost. In Detroit, the day Greenberg's line drive fractured Wilson's skull, Mike took over with one out in the 10th, won out in the 12th 7-4 though Woods relieved him at the close.

He made three other appearances before Ferriss needed help last Sunday in St. Louis. The Sox, behind Mike, rallied to win in the 13th.

With only two days rest after pitching five innings, Mike started against the Browns Wednesday night. He gave up only five hits into the eighth inning. He had to be relieved after McQuinn's homer brought the score down to 5-4 in the ninth but that homer never would have been hit had not Camilli and Holm done the Alphonse-Gaston act on Mac's foul fly beforehand.

Yes, Mike has done a grand job for a chap who celebrated his 40th birthday in June. If more of the younger Sox worked as hard at their trade as does Mike, they'd win more than they lose, too.

Heflin (2-7) faces the A's tomorrow. Ferriss (19-6) and Clark (1-2) will pitch Sunday's twin bill . . . Metkovich spent most of time on the train ride from St. Louis taking pointers in first base play from Dolph Camilli . . . When the train reached Indianapolis, card games broke up in a hurry and every Sox rushed out to get a paper. They didn't get a chance to read one in St. Louis because of the strike.

Graziano Choice Over Cochrane

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (INS)—Rocky Graziano held a nine-pound weight advantage over Red Cochrane today.

Graziano scaled 154, while Cochrane weighed 145.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—One of boxing's top bouts of the summer season is on at Madison Square Garden tonight with welterweight champ Fred Cochrane and Rocky Graziano tangling in a return non-title 10-rounder.

Lured by the prospect of again watching the Brooklyn slugger knock out the Elizabeth, N. J., champ, a crowd of 17,000 is expected to pay close to $100,000, one of the biggest gates of the year.

The Broadway betting boys, as in the first bout on June 29, have made Rocky a 1-to-2 favorite and quote even money on Rocky's chances of gaining his fourth straight Garden kayo.

The Jersey redhead who likely will be outweighed by 10 pounds, may be the sentimental favorite of the crowd.

Johnny Indrisano Holds Top Hollywood Rating

By JACK CONWAY

JOHNNY INDRISANO, former East Boston ring star, dropped into this office to say hello upon his arrival from Hollywood. Indrisano today prepares most of the boxing scenes that are shown in the movies, teaches moving picture stars how to box, and names the professional fighters who appear in pictures like "John L. Sullivan," the "Life Story of the Marquis of Queensberry" and other famous films.

"I like my new career in the movies as much as I did my life as a boxer," said Indrisanno. "It is good to be back in Boston for a brief visit after a dozen years in Hollywood.

Johnny Indrisano

"I was not entirely a stranger to Hollywood as I had previously met many of the leading producers and actors in New York. Broadway merely moved to Hollywood.

"I have refereed boxing shows in California for 12 years, and officiate on an average of once a week. The American Legion Arena is still doing a sellout business every Friday night. This arena attracts all of the Hollywood stars. There are millions of dollars of movie talent at the Friday night shows.

"When I first went to Hollywood, I took several minor parts in pictures. I then set myself up as a technical expert on boxing scenes. I arranged the setup of the rings and fight clubs and also secured the boxing talent.

"I collected all possible old prints and pictures and this helped me in getting the proper type of settings. I arranged for the barge fight scene in the John L. picture and I was pleased it was so well received everywhere.

Jobs for Old Fighters

"IT HAS BEEN necessary for me to employ numerous professional boxers for appearances in boxing scenes. Jack Perry, who once fought Eddie Shevlin in Boston, Phil Bloom, Phil McGraw, Ace Hudkins, who twice battled Al Mello, and Frank Moran, the heavyweight who lost to Jack Johnson in Paris, have been among the boxers I have used.

"The movies will pay a boxer $100 a day while he is held on a lot. As most of the former ring stars have other jobs, the $100 a day pay is extra compensation for them.

"I introduced Mike Mazurki, the wrestler, to the movies. He has become a star.

"Greb McClure, who did so well in the John L. picture, is only 23 years of age. He would have been a good boxer if someone had got him five years ago and trained him in the art of self-defense. McClure was working on the Paramount lot as a laborer when he received his chance to make good in the movies.

"I prepared the fight scene in 'The Rising Son' and in 'The Crowd Roars.'

New Coast Star

"CALIFORNIA has a new ring star in Fritzie Fitzpatrick. He is a terrific puncher. I have seen him outpointed for six or seven rounds, and then level his opponent with a haymaker. There is talk of matching Fitzpatrick with Johnny Rogers' Floyd Marsnall who is a top boxer.

"Rogers will act as American representative for Bruce Woodcock, British heavyweight champion. Woodcock is rated as one of the best heavyweights ever developed in England. He is managed by Tom Hurst, son of Norman Hurst, famous English sports columnist.

"When in California, I live with Tommy Farmer, former South End resident. Tommy is busy managing Manuel Ortiz, who was recently discharged from the Army.

"I look for a great boxing boom now that the war is over. Hundreds of service men will go in for boxing. I hope all of them get proper training so that they will be able to get the most out of boxing."

WPB Weighs End Of Ammunition Curb

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The War Production Board is considering the lifting of restrictions on the sale of civilian ammunition, but a decision is being delayed because its office of civilian requirements fears there might be a shortage for essential users.

The ORC, it was learned today, took the position that unrestricted sale of ammunition to hunters and sportsmen might leave farmers, ranchers and law enforcement officers without sufficient supplies.

A decision is expected next week.

Hank Sauer Returns To Reds From Tars

CINCINNATI, Aug. 24 (AP)—Hank Sauer, 26-year-old outfielder and first baseman, will be the first baseball player to return to the Cincinnati Reds from the armed forces, club officials announced today. Sauer, a member of the U. S. Coast Guard, will obtain his release in the next few days and has been ordered to report to the Cincinnati club.

Nearly $15,000 for Vets' Fund at Races

Raynham Park once again takes its place with the outstanding sports organizations which have done so much to make the Record-American-Advertiser fund for hospitalized veterans in this area so great a success.

Turning over the entire proceeds of last night's card at the Raynham oval, this worthy veterans fund received approximately $14,800. The exact accounting is yet to be made but the final figure should be quite close to the estimate.

Those greyhound fans who turned out for the big night despite the chilly weather saw Flashy Sir add further laurels to his record. The Ohlinger and Blair speedster won the Disabled Veterans Special by five lengths to give him nine victories in ten starts and a second or the greatest greyhound record of the year.

Sent away at 3 to 10, Flashy Sir led from the opening of the boxes right to the wire. Wingover was second and Judy Ann Lee finished third.

The winner was timed in 31.3 seconds which is just one fifth of a second off the track record he made last Tuesday night.

Borowy Faces Cards for Cubs

CHICAGO, Aug. 24—Hank Borowy was the pitching choice of the first place Cubs as they opened an important three-game series with the defending champion Cardinals here today. Harry Brecheen, southpaw, was the St. Louis starter.

The Cubs held a five and a half game edge on the National League field as play opened. A ladies' day crowd in excess of 40,000 persons turned out.

FIRST INNING

CARDINALS — Schoendienst grounded out. Hopp singled and stole second. Adams walked. Murowski fanned. Lowrey caught Sanders' fly. NO RUNS.

CUBS—Hack flied out. Johnson bunted safely. Lowrey singled, putting Johnson on second. Cavarretta grounded into a double play. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING

CARDINALS—O'Dea walked. Pafko caught Verban's liner. Marion bounced into a double play. NO RUNS.

CUBS—Pafko walked. Nicholson forced Pafko. Livingston flied out. Merullo forced Nicholson. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING

CARDINALS—Brecheen walked. Schoendienst forced Brecheen. Hopp popped. Adams flied out. NO RUNS

CUBS—Borowy lined out. Hack walked. Johnson rolled out. Lowrey walked. Cavarretta struck out. NO RUNS.

FOURTH INNING

CARDINALS—Merullo back up for Kurowski's fly. Sanders flied to Lowrey. O'Dea fouled to Hack. NO RUNS.

Girls Race for Park Dept. Cup

The Boston Park Dept. trophy will be the prize for the winner of the girls' 440-yard open free-style event in the gala water carnival to be staged at Carson Beach, South Boston, Sunday afternoon at 2:15 p. m. in the Record-American-SundayAdvertiser "Learn To Swim" meet.

Commissioner William F. Long will make the presentation.

This open event, one of 15 on the card, will be hotly contested. Leading the parade of entries are NEAAAU champion Louise Sherlock of the Olneyville Boys' Club auxiliary; Barbara Milliken, Olneyville, and Constance Mills and Pauline Silver of the Providence Central Boys' Club auxiliary. This quartet of out-of-staters will give the localities plenty to think about.

Mayor John E. Kerrigan will also be on hand to present his trophy to the winner of the NEAAAU senior 100-meters free-style. Misses Sherlock, Milliken and Silver will have Dorothy Kendrick and Joanna Berggren of the Met. Swimming Club; Joan Ferry, Prov. Central; Marion Senior, Wanskuck Boys' Club, and Ellen Horgan of Worcester to top in this title swim.

Meet director Ben Levias has arranged to have Ensign Howard Kiefer, U. S. Navy, give an exhibition in freestyle, breaststroke and backstroke swimming. Ensign Kiefer holds several world and American records. He'll be bringing John Woodcock, entered in the NEAAAU 440-yard freestyle, and Howard Phelps, in the 100-meters freestyle, open, from the Navy base in Davisville, R. I.

Music will be provided by the Roxbury Post 44, American Legion band.

Feller Pitches Against Tigers

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24 (AP)—Bob Feller, the Indians' pitching star, strikeout king of the major leagues, takes the mound for the Tribe tonight for the first time since Sept. 26, 1941, when he humbled the St. Louis Browns with one hit.

Feller Day festivities start at noon with a luncheon, after which he receives a jeep for use on his Iowa farm. Among the luncheon guests will be Governor Frank J. Lausche and Mayor Thomas A. Burke.

Bob apparently is ready. He worked out at League Park yesterday and was reported in tip-top shape for his meeting with the league-leading Detroit Tigers.

Feller will oppose Hal Newhouser, who supplanted him as baseball's winningest pitcher when he left for the Navy, and Detroit manager Steve O'Neill commented:

"I hope he has good luck, but, of course, you can't blame me for saying I wish he had that luck against somebody else."

Steve caught part of the first game Feller ever pitched for Cleveland, an exhibition game against the St. Louis Cards in 1936, in which Bob struck out eight in three innings.

That day made Feller. He was signed to an Indians' contract immediatey and has been a star to the staff ever since except for his service years.
